MIDNIGHT.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 17, 1869.

FEES ABOLISHED.

The Commissioner of Customs writes to the Collector at New York, that the fees collected under the state and municipal law are unconstitutional, and shall hereafter, in no instance, be collected. This abolishes all fees except those imposed by the United States.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Commissioner Delano to-day made the following decision: Persons whose business it is to negotiate a purchase or sale of stock is a banker within the meaning of paragraph one, section 79, of the act of 30th of June, '64, as amended, if he has a place of business where he receives from others stocks whose sale he negotiates, or where money is advanced or loaned on stocks.

DOUBTFUL STATEMENT.

The gentleman recently elected to the Virginia State Senate visited the Secretary of War to-day and states he received satisfactory assurances that the test oath would not be required of members-elect to the Legislature.

THE REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The total Revenue receipts from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1869, estimating those of seventy-seven districts, were $158,700,000.

LARGE TOBACCO STAMP ORDER.

The orders for tobacco stamps received yesterday at the Revenue Office, were larger in number and aggregate amount than ever before received in one day.

DENIED.

It can be said by authority, that the reported resignation of Secretary Rawlins and tender of the Secretary of Warship to Gen. Dodge is unfounded.

MEXICO.

Conspiracy Against the Life of Jaurez Frustrated—Revolt in Yucatan—Revolution in Tamanlipas Ended, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CITY OF MEXICO, August 13, via Havana, August 17.—A conspiracy against the life of President Juarez, the discovery of which has already been reported, was completely frustrated. All the principal conspirators, including five Generals, were captured. One of the latter has since escaped from prison and is in Michona. A number of persons arrested in connection with this plot have been set at liberty.

The Mexican army is to be filled up by enlistment instead of conscription. Recruiting parties will be sent throughout the country, and extra inducements will be offered.

Senor Salahar, formerly Chairman of the Mexican Boundary Commission, has become insane.

A copy of a treaty between Mexico and the North German Confederation has been forwarded to Berlin for ratification.

The Indian revolt in Yucatan is growing more serious. The Indians are one thousand strong and their numbers are increasing. They have burned seven hiacendas near Isamal.

The Cuban residents of Merida have offered their services to the government to assist in the defence of the city.

Two Indian Chiefs have been captured in Chinapas and shot.

The Indians in Michocan are becoming turbulent.

The revolution in the State of Tamanlipas is ended. The Pronunciados have been dispersed and are asking for amnesty.

The question of States' Rights which caused the difficulty in Queratero has not yet been settled.

The inundations in the State of Jalicoho have caused great damage.

CINCINNATI.

Call for a Women's Suffrage Convention—The Broad Platform.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 17.—A Women's Suffrage Convention has been called, to meet at Pike's Hall, this city, September 15th. The following is the plafform:

Whereas, All just governments are founded on the consent of the governed; and whereas, taxation without representation is tyranny; and whereas, every human being is endowed by the Creator with a right to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Government of the United States, in denying to women, who constitute fully one-half of its subjects, the right of suffrage, and with it most of the privileges and emoluments pertaining to full citizenship, is only half republican in its character.

Resolved, It is the duty of women who are thus denied their right of suffrage to demand it in order that the Government may be in truth what it professes to be, and by this means be preserved for the welfare of future generations.

Resolved, That it is the duty of all progressive and truth-loving men, who would know right and help to do it, to unite with women in helping them to secure the ballott, which will prove a sufficient guarantee for all civil and social rights.

Signed by the names of a hundred and twenty ladies and gentlemen, comprising editors, ministers, lawyers and physicians.

From the Wreck of the Steamship Germania.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST, JOHNS, N. F., August 17.—The news from the wreck of the steamship "Germania," represent only one bar of silver recovered since Saturday, making 28 bars in all. The ship has settled down aft in nine fathoms of water, covering up the cargo consisting of sewing machines, tobacco and cigars and is almost worthless. The officers of the Germania report another steamer struck near the same place on the same day, but she got off and proceeded on her voyage. The Captain of the Germania is still at the wreck. The Cleopatra sunk in shoal water. Her Captain is endeavoring to secure the cargo.

The Crops and the Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Late intelligence from various counties in Maine, show that the potatoe crop has been seriously injured by the draught, and the crop will be light.

No rains have fallen in Richmond during the past week, nor for sometime previously. The drought is general and excessive. The crop is materially shortened, if not a total failure.

The weather at Columbia, S. C., during the past week was dry and hot until yesterday, when a fine rain fell. A full average crop of corn is anticipated.

At Columbus, Ga., the weather has been excessively warm and dry for the past four weeks. This only slightly injured the late corn crops. There was a good rain yesterday and a light shower to-day, which greatly benefitted the late corn crop.

At Charleston, S. C., the weather of the past week has been dry and warm. This has had a good effect on the corn crop, which is well matured in this section.

Information from all parts of Tennessee leaves but little doubt that the corn and cotton crops have been materially injured by the drought which has prevailed for a month past. The corn is almost beyond redemption.

At Meriden, Miss., the weather of the past week has been dry and hot, with no rain. The corn is not suffering much for rain. The crop is about made. It is hardly an average yield.

The weather for a week or ten days past at Terre Haute, Ind., has been excessively warm. The mercury ranged from 85 to 96, with several fine rain falls, and the prospects for a full crop of corn are considered generally good. All other crops are unusually large.

At Selma, Ala., the weather for the past two weeks nas been clear and dry, which caused cotton to shed young forms considerably. Monday there was a fine rain and another yesterday afternoon, which will cause the cotton to stop shedding. The weather cannot effect the corn crop, as it is already made.

At Galveston, Texas, it has rained three days and been clear four days during the past seven. The corn crop is abundant all over the State. The rains cannot injure it.

At Columbus, Mississippi, the weather during the past week has been dry and fine but to day rain fell. There will be about a half crop of corn. The cotton crop promises to be a fair one.

At Montgomery, Ala., the cotton is suffering from rust and the caterpillar is reported on many plantations. The corn crop is made and will be a good one in this section. The first rain for ten days fell this afternoon and it promised to be a heavy one.

At New Orleans the weather is hot, with showers daily. This does not effect the corn crop as it is made.

At Mobile the corn crop is made. The weather has had no effect with the exception of a few localities. The crop is bad, and taking the average yield of the country tributary to Mobile, will not be enough to last through to next crop season. The cotton accounts are very favorable with promises of an increased yield over last year.

The first bale of the growing cotton crop was received at Memphis yesterday from Alabama,

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 17, 1869.

BANK OFFICER ARRESTED.

George R. Butler, of the First National Bank of Memphis, was to-day brought before Judge McCunn in obedience to a writ of habeas corpus, but the examination was postponed until Thursday. The prisoner was accordingly taken back to Police Head Quarters. No requisition has yet been received from Tennessee.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD SCHEME.

There are some important railroad schemes on foot in this city. The representatives of the New York Central, Erie, Pennsylvania Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Michigan Southern Railroads are in session on the freight tariff question, and it is expected that the present low rates will soon give way to the old tariff once more. The officials of the Erie, Michigan Southern and Wabash Railroads are negotiating for a consolidation of the two latter on condition that the Erie does not build the new road from Akron to Toledo. The managers of the trunk lines to the West are looking to the control of either or both the Northwestern and Rock Island, so as to complete their connections with the Pacific Railway. The rivalry in freight has led to a sharp competition for passenger traffic. The Pennsylvania Central to-day put on a train which will run from here to Chicago in thirty hours. This will compel rival lines to shorten time.

THE O'MAHONEY-BAILEY CASE.

The case of Bailey vs. O'Mahoney was up before Justice McCunn, to-day, on a motion to vacate the injunction restraining Receiver Barr from paying over funds in his possession to any person except by order of the court, and also to set aside the order appointing a Receiver.

Mr. Bailey claims that the purpose for which the money was collected was abandoned, and the amount rightfully belongs to the holders of the bonds of the Irish Republic. On behalf of O'Mahoney it was urged that the Fenian organization is now more prosperous than ever, and the leaders are ready and willing to comply with the terms and pay the principal and interest within six months after the recognition of the Irish Republic. The chief point on which O'Mahoney relied was that the bonds were issued for an illegal purpose, and that the bondholders had therefore no standing in the court. The decision was reserved.

THE USURY CASE.

Application was made to Judge Cardoza to-day for remission of the imprisonment portion of the sentence of Russel Sage and Geo. P. Watts, convicted of usury. The decision was reserved.

GOOD HEALTH.

There is not a single case of sickness at Quarantine to day.

BOSTON.

Meeting of the Prohibitionists.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, August 17.—The State Temperance Convention called by the prohibitionists met to-day. Three hundred delegates were present. Hon. Whiting Griswold, temporary, and Hon. P. Mory Aidrich, permanent President. Several addresses in favor of prohibition were delivered this afternoon. A motion was made to appoint delegates to the Chicago National Convention. After considerable discussion it was adopted, and a list of delegates from different parts of the State were appointed.

The report of the Committee on Credentials was then read, showing that two hundred and eleven towns were represented by 1,426 delegates. The Committee on Address and Resolutions then made their report. The address is brief, summing up arguments in favor of prohibition, urges the people to elect prohibition representatives to the Legislature, and declares that whichever party will adopt a principle of prohibition will win such success as never before was given it. Resolutions in favor of sustaining the prohibitory law on account of the beneficial results thus far derived from it; calls on the parties of the Commonwealth to insert in their platforms approval of prohibition as a principle right in itself, and of the highest benefit to the people; declares the party that for nearly twenty years has controlled the administration of the State Government, is especially bound to recognize these principles, if it would continue to direct the councils of State; thanks the constables of the State for their faithfulness in executing the law, recognizes the various services of Gov. Claflin in the cause of prohibition, and recommends the establishment of a daily morning paper to be dedicated to the cause in Boston were introduced.

After reading the address and resolutions a discussion arose upon the resolutions thanking the Constabulary and endorsing Governor Claflin. The members complained that the Chief Constable had not done his duty and some of Governor Claflin's Judges drank wine. The discussion was exciting on the address, when all the resolutions were finally adopted and the Convention adjourned sine die.

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

Second Day's Proceedings.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, August 17.—The proceedings of the second day of the National Labor Convention, commenced with an announcement by the Secretary of the Committee on Condolence, of the President's address, platform, organization and the constitution. The Committee on Labor made a report on the eight hour law, concluding with a recommendation that Congres should be memoralized to make provision for the twenty per cent. of pay deducted from those in the Government employ.

Mr. Field, of Michigan, offered a resolution declaring that Congress should provide for the funding of that portion of the National debt not required for a circulating medium, by the issue of long bonds bearing interest not exceeding 3.65-100 per cent., and that the United States currency notes at the option of the holder should be convertible into such bonds at par; that it demand such an adjustment of duties on all commodities produced by the labor of foreign countries as will adequately protect American labor and restrain excessive importation of commodities from abroad, while we have the raw material, skill and ability in our own country. This was referred to the Committee on Reform.

Mr. Wall's, of Philadelphia, offered the following:

Resolved, That the action of this Convention in refusing to admit Miss Susan B. Anthony, was not based upon grounds personal to herself, but simply because the organization she claims to represent is not bona fide a working woman's association.

After considerable debate on the resolution the President declared Miss Anthony was entitled to the floor, as she was a delegate to the Convention last year.

Miss Anthony, at considerable length, defended the attacks made against her by several delegates.

Adjourned till afternoon.

North Carolina.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RALEIGH, N. C., August 17.—We have had little rain, scarcely sufficient to lay the dust. The corn crop in this vicinity is suffering very much. It is thought the yield this year will not exceed two-thirds of that of last year. There was a very fine rain to-day, but it is feared it came too late to benefit the early corn. The weather is very warm.

—At the opening of the Havana Casino Espanal, Captain General de Rodas made a speech. He congratulated the gentlemen who had established the institution on having carried out an idea pregnant with good results. He believed it would serve to lighten the bonds of affection that should unite all good Spaniards on both sides of the ocean. He warned the members of this, as well as those of similar associations, that they should avoid political discussion, otherwise their reunions would degenerate into political or revolutionary clubs, presenting obstacles to good government. The President of the Casino and editors of the Prensa made replies, fully according with the sentiments of the Captain General.

—A woman named Mrs. Gifford, living in the northern part of Marion Co., Iowa, died on Saturday, from the effects of fright at the eclipse. She had no knowledge of its approach, and was alone at the time it came on, with the exception of a child four weeks old. Terrified at the sight, she seized her child and fled to a neighbor's, a mile distant. When she reached there her reason was gone. A doctor near by was called, who pronounced her incurable. She lingered along till Saturday, when she died, without her reason having returned.

—The National Educational Convention met at Trenton, N. J., yesterday. The opening address was made by J. W. Buckley, President of the National Superintendent's Association. The minutes of the last meeting, held at Nashville, were approved. A paper was read from Rev. Charles Brooks, of Massachusetts, advocating the adoption of the New England system of free schools everywhere, and calling upon Congress to grant public lands for the purpose. The Convention adjourned until to-day. The attendance is as yet small.

—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad, held at Madisonville, Indiana, yesterday, measures were adopted which will secure the completion of this road at an early day. Only thirty-four miles remain to be built to complete the connection from the Ohio river through to Nashville, and Gen. Boyle, the President of the road, leaves immediately for the east to close the contract for the construction of this section and the completion of the road.

—On Saturday a brute attemped an outrage, on the little child daughter of Rev. C. H. Clarke, in Ottawa, Ill. Attempts were made to lynch him—a punishment yet threatened.

TEMPERANCE IN POLITICS.

Meeting of the Executive Committee—Organized for Work—The Conduct of the Campaign—Discussion, "Views" and Decisions—How to Advertise.

Yesterday afternoon the Executive Committee, appointed by the late Temperance Convention, assembled at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, Fifth avenue, for the purpose of organizing for the campaign. There was a large attendance, nearly every member of the Committee being present.

Col. J. B. Clark presided, and Mr. J. E. Johnston was chosen Secretary.

The following Committees were then appointed.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES.

Finance.—Thomas J. Hoskinson, Jas. I. Bennett, R. S. Waring, Jasper E. Brady, Jonathan Gallagher, David B. Oliver, William B. Brickell.

Documents and Printing.—S. Y. Kennedy, George Irwin, W. H. Cluley, Capt. W. W. Martin, S. M. Duvall, F. H. Eaton.

Meetings and Speakers.—L. H. Eaton, Col. J. B. Clark, David Kirk, Dr. T. F. Dale, J. E. Johnston, James R. Reed, W. T. Bowen, James Miller.

Organization.—David Kirk, J. A. Carothers, R. S. Waring, John Way Jr., J. E. Johnston, George Findley, F. H. Anderson, Thomas Hershberger, Col. Hugh Lee, N. P. Kerr, Capt. George Neeld, George H. Star, R. C. Miller.

Mr. Kirk stated that all the persons named in the Committees had given their pledges as workers in the cause, and would heartily endeavor to advance it. If, however, the name of a good worker had been omitted it could be added.

On motion of Mr. Eaton, Mr. Isaac Charles was added to the County Executive Committee.

J. H. Timmons, of Tarentum, A. H. Elder, of McKeesport, James M. Burchfield, S. H. Baird, Jas. Rynd, of Pittsburgh, and J. K. Kramer, of Elizabeth, were also added to the same Committee.

HEADQUARTERS SECURED.

Mr. S. Y. Kennedy offered his office in the Methodist Episcopal Block, 129 Smithfield street, as a place of meeting and general headquarters for the Committees.

The offer was accepted and a vote of thanks tendered the gentleman for his courtesy.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Mr. Hoskinson stated that the books would be prepared and the Committee on Finance proceed at once with their work.

Colonel Lee wished to know what the money was needed for. The object of the movement simply was confined to Allegheny county, and he did not see that a large amount of money was needed.

Mr. Kennedy explained that at first it was designed to publish a campaign paper, issuing ten thousand copies weekly, but this idea had been given up, as they had been assured by some persons connected with some of the daily papers that communications written in a fair and temperate spirit would be admitted to their columns. But, aside from this, documents would have to be printed, announcements and other matters attended to, which would require at least two thousand dollars for conducting the campaign.

Mr. Anderson thought that one thousand dollars would be sufficient. The work he thought must be done principally by speakers and meetings, not by tracts or statistics of printed matter.

WHAT HAS BEEN EXPENDED.

Mr. Kennedy said that already three hundred dollars had been spent, and yet no particular show had been made. Money must be had to carry on any work of the kind. A sawmill couldn't be run on a pint of water.

Mr. Kirk thought this question of finance was one of the most important which could be considered. If contracted views were allowed to rule at first, they would drag the campaign all along. He thought five thousand dollars would not be more than sufficient to carry on the work properly. The old parties carried on the campaign at an expense varying from nine to sixty thousand dollars, and if the Temperance men wished to do anything they must also be liberal with the funds. Meetings must be held, speakers procured, the county canvassed, and documents and communications published, all of which would require money. These must all be published in the daily newspapers, as they were the best medium through which the people might be reached. This movement, if successful, would not alone be felt in Allegheny county, but would extend over the whole State. If it was found that the old banner county had thrown off the shackles of party and spoken for reform, the movement would extend all over the State, and the cause would at once become a victorious power. He hoped that nothing but earnest, liberal views on this question of finances would prevail.

Mr Kirk's remarks were received with rapture by the Committee, and several who had been suspected of "narrowness" hastened to announce "them's my sentiments".

"THAT LITTLE WILLIAM"

Mr. Kennedy said it was not forgotten how they had been twitted about the management of the last campaign, especially in regard to "that little William" of the Dispatch. He hoped nothing of the kind would occur again. The money could be secured if the collectors only asked for it.

THE BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING.

A member who had just arrived, here gave an illustration of the benefits of advertising in the newspapers, by stating that the publication of the Executive Committee, exhibiting as it did in a small way some life and spirit in the movement, had gained the cause four votes from an establishment, on Second avenue. The announcement was the occasion of facetious felicitations on the "ground swell," which it betokened. It was accordingly decided money would be needed, and the Committee were instructed to proceed with collecting vigorously.

MISCELLANEOUS.

On motion of Mr. Eaton, the various sub-Committees were instructed to contract no debts except through the Chairman of the Finance Committee.

It was decided to hold the meetings of the General Committee every Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

The Committee then adjourned to meet next Saturday afternoon at the designated place.

TROUTING.

Off before your mother
Fairly knows you're out—
Goodness! ain't it jolly,
Tramping after trout!

Tripping over mosses,
Slipping over a one,
Creeping through morasses,
Chilled through blood and bones;
"Dipping" into spring holes,
Ripping something out—
Goodness! but it's pleasant,
Whipping after trout!

Stumbling over saw logs
Where they've made a jam—
No one can say this stream
Is'nt worth a dam
Water "cold as blazes,"
Foams your feet about;
Catch your death of—"Whist, man!
Did you see that trout?"

Fly him gently, kindly,
Horse hair is out frail:
There's a speckled beauty!
Crook's hooks never fail.
Twenty ounces, plump, Sirs—
Heft him, if you doubt,
Silver, gold and garnets—
What can match a trout?

Lightly drops the tackle,
Blithely sings the stream,
Brightly bursts the foam bells,
Like a poet's dream;
Splash! there goes a "summer"—
Whirr! and he is out!
What school is so charming
As a school of trout?

PENNSYLVANIA.

THE cotton factory at Harrisburg has stopped work.

INDIANA has organized a gymnasium company, and is now engaged collecting the money that was subscribed.

JUNIATA COUNTY business men talk of adopting the strict cash system for selling. They will still buy in the East on time.

SEVERAL barns have been burned throughout the State, and the cause is said to be the overheating of hay which had been housed before it was properly dried.

THE Waynesburg and Washington stage was run off with by its horses the other day and upset. One lady was severely hurt and one horse was badly damaged.

AN unusual number of meteors and shooting stars have been seen all over the state during the past few weeks, and the country papers nearly all mention some especially brilliant ones.

IT IS SAID that the numerous Altoona fires were gotten up by the members of a fire company there, in order to provide amusement for visitors, who at various times the company delighted to honor.

THERE is some talk of sending Hon. Galusha A. Grow to the Legislature. Montrose wants a first-class representative. If we could get a few more such men in our Harrisburg councils, a single session would make up for all the shortcomings of past years.

THE following is a copy, verbatim, et literatim et punctuatim, of a notice taken from the shafts of the Pennsylvania Coal Company:

NOTICE.

To whome it may concerne Any person or persons entering this shaft or in other words--resuming work before the Basis is satisfactorily signed will without any ceremony be deprived of their existance. By order

July 21, 1869. [Picture of a coffin]

THE ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the Hospital for the Insane of the Northern District of Pennsylvania, will take place on the site for the new building, near Danville, on Thursday, the 26th inst. His Excellency, John W. Geary, will lay the corner-stone, and the address appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by the celebrated Dr. Isaac Ray, of Philadelphia. The commissioners, Drs. Curwin, Reed and Green, have spared no pains to make the ceremonies on this occasion interesting and impressive.

A MAN passed through Allentown the other day, pushing a wheelbarrow in which was seated his wife, unable to walk from rheumatism, and who was trundled all the way here on a wheelbarrow from Illinois. Two little children of the pair ran along by the side of the father the entire distance. We could not learn the name of the family, nor whither they were going. Truly a woman is blessed with a faithful husband who would toil and slave thus for her welfare. This trip we believe is unprecedented.—Carbon Democrat.

RECENTLY, at Middleboro, in this county, there appeared before Justice Pease a man who gave his name as Wm. Hart, of Erie, and Mrs. Mary ——, (the Justice wouldn't give her name), said to be a school ma'm of this city, formerly of Fairview, Mercer county. The lady was married in a white dress, but had another to travel in, using the buggy in front of the door as a dressing room, for the purpose of putting it on. The bridegroom tendered a small amount of currency for the trouble given, and drove off in a great hurry, seemingly in fear that some one might come unbidden. No cards.—Erie Gazette.

THE Punxsutawney Plaindealer says: "On Monday afternoon a most shocking accident occurred on East Branch, near Big Run, which resulted in the death of John McAninch, Esq., of Gaskill township. He was engaged in felling a hemlock tree, which, in its fall, struck a small dead maple, breaking it in several pieces, one of which flew back end foremost, striking him on the side and groin, tearing the flesh away and mutilating him in a most horrible manner. His death must have been almost instantaneous. Mr. McAninch was alone when the accident occurred; but, from all appearances, he attempted to escape by getting behind another tree, and must have nearly succeeded in doing so when the fragment struck him, as, in its course, it tore the bark off the tree behind which he was lying when found.

WE HAVE the outlines of an occurrence in the upper end of this county, which is terrible. A family had a large bull dog who showed a fierce disposition toward strangers, but had always been peaceable enough in the family and no one had any fears of his disturbing the children. One day last week, one of the little ones was sitting on the floor and the dog standing by, when the child grasped at his tail, probably to assist it in getting on its feet. The animal turned upon the child, seized it by the back of the neck and shook it violently, and kept his hold until his jaws were forced open and he was driven from the house. The father took a gun and fired two loads into him, but the dog made for the house again, to finish his work on the child, when a third shot dropped him. His teeth had crushed through the skull at the back of the head, and the child's life was in danger. We shall probably hear more of the matter before our next issue.—Honesdale Citizen

WEST VIRGINIA.

ALLEGED discoveries of gold are the latest sensation in Tucker county.

THE people of Charleston are begining to put up their new capitol buildings.

THE Weston "Democrat" is exercised over a prophetic egg, shaped like a powder-horn.

A SEVERE hail storm, seriously damaged the corn and wheat about seven miles out of Morgantown. Hail stones the size of hen's eggs, were picked up in numbers.

WE learn that some of the stockholders of the Riverside Iron Works at Wheeling have purchased land in Kanawha county, where they propose erecting an iron furnace at an early day.—Buff. Ind.

THE Morgantown Post says; A little daughter of Mrs. B. H. Sear was attacked in a blackberry field a few days ago, by Lee Crow's savage bull dog. The animal bit her in several places, making ugly wounds.

JOHN A. TRIMBLE, of Elk township, Barbour county, was thrown from a reaper on Saturday of last week, and had one of his feet almost sawed off by the sharp knives of the machine. A shoe on the other foot was badly cut.

THE Charleston Journal says: We are gratified to have it in our power to announce that a number of gentlemen, representing a large amount of capital, have completed the necessary arrangements to erect large and extensive iron works just above Malden, in this county. We understand the land on which the buildings are to be erected is to be sold at the price paid for it over thirty-five years ago. That is the proper spirit, and we accept it as an omen of hope.

Delirium Tremens in the New York Hospital.

Dr. Roosa contributes to the September numter of Putnam's Magazine a pleasant historical sketch of the New York Hospital, in which several incidents of practice in that venerable institution are narrated. The following passage describes the scenes in one ward:

"The ward devoted to sufferers from mania potu, or delirium tremens—the 'del. trem.' ward, as the nurses and house doctors were apt to call it—would alone furnish scenes for the pencil of the artist which might surpass those of Hogarth or Holbein, so frightful is the demoniac appearance of man when the victim of his passions, and overcome with awful dread at the horrid shapes which his diseased brain had pictured. The visitor to such a ward, when it is well filled, would almost imagine that he had entered one of the portals of the regions of the lost.

"One poor victim lies muttering to himself, and constantly picking his bed clothes, now and then rising up and fixedly staring, with horror delineated in every feature, on some fancied demon emerging from a crevice or corner. Another is hurling back, with awful blasphemy, the taunts and jeers with which his imaginary enemy is tormenting him, while in the grated room off the main ward, reserved for the most violent cases, a poor fellow is rushing madly about, fighting a mortal combat with what seems to him a real enemy. The straight jacket and well padded walls, however, protect him from doing himself any harm, while the strong men, chosen as nurses for these patients, cow them down with a steady look, and preserve a Satanic order in this pandemonium. Occasionally, however, a sufferer from the effects of strong drink, instead of fearful shapes and imaginations, sees gentle spirits and dreams delightful dreams. A smile is constantly playing on such lips, and he seems like a child dreaming of angels. I well remember a poor artist who had often suffered from delirium tremens, who told me that in his hours of insanity he saw images that Raphael or Angelo might have traced, and that visions of artistic beauty floated before him which he could never execute in his sober hours, and yet the period of remorse and intense physical suffering came to him all the same.

"It is said that one patient has been in the hospital more than a dozen times; but, as a rule, two or three attacks finish a career. The writer once heard an eminent Professor of Medicine say that he had no hopes whatever of the reform of a man who had once had delirium tremens. But this was before the days of inebriate asylums."

Public Parks.

The authorities of Chicago have recently published an elaborate report on the subject of public pleasure-grounds, giving the areas of the large parks of the cities of Europe and the United States. From these statistics it appears that Windsor Park, England, has 3,800 acres; Richmond, 2,468; Hampton Court and Burley, 1,812 acres. In London, Hyde Park has 389 acres; Regent's, 473 acres; Battersea, 175 acres; St. James; 55 acres; Kensington, 262 acres; and Green, 55 acres. Phœnix Park, Dublin, has 1,752 acres; Birkenhead, Liverpool, has 182 acres, laid out under the direction of Sir Joseph Paxton. The Bois de Boulogne, near Paris, has 2,158 acres, 875 of which are open turf, 607 woods, 174 water, 365 acres in roads, 171 in nurseries and flower-beds. The Thiergarten at Berlin comprises 200 acres. The Tzarskoe Selo summer garden at St. Petersburg consists of 350 acres.

In the United States, Fairmount Park, at Philadelphia, has 2,200 acres, and in the course of a year will be extended to 2,700 acres; New York Central Park contains 862 acres. In Baltimore, Druid Hill Park has 550 acres, and Patterson's Park 125½ acres. In Brooklyn, Prospect Park contains 550 acres. Boston Common and the Providence (R. I.) Park are each a mile in circumference. Cincinnati has a park of 156 acres. St. Louis has 287 acres of public grounds, distributed among fifteen small parks; and Chicago is going to have a large park, and has 126 acres of public ground in small parks now.

THE New York Evening Post of the 11th inst., says: Mr. Bonner took Dexter over to Brooklyn yesterday afternoon, and drove him a mile on the Prospect Fair Grounds in the extraordinary time of 2:23¾. This is the fastest time ever made to a road wagon. Dexter, two years ago, trotted a mile in a public race, before Mr. Bonner owned him, in 2:24 to a skeleton wagon, which time has never been beaten in public; but yesterday, in going to a road-wagon, he had to carry nearly 100 pounds more than on that occasion, and yet, notwithstanding the heavy weight, he beat his skeleton-wagon time. This performance proves that Dexter is a better horse this season than he has ever been.

Paradise Lost.

The story of "Paradise Lost," which may be new to some readers, is briefly as follows: It was Milton's life-long ambition to write a great work that his country would not willingly let die, and he doubtless thought, during the troublous times of the civil war, that his fondly cherished hopes were baffled; that he had indeed been born an age too soon; that he had fallen upon evil days and evil tongues; but when peace smiled again upon his native land, he turned his attention to the selection of a subject. Before he determined on his long philosophical poem, he appears to have ranged through history in quest of a topic of sufficient interest and capability, and to have dwelt for a time fondly on King Arthur. At last, he reached a point beyond which it was impossible to go. Milton's choice was made, and "Paradise Lost" grew slowly into being.

The exact date when Milton—of whom the Bishop of Avranches wrote to Salmasius, who had done him the honor of abusing him: "How can you occupy yourself with an object so insignificant as this, Milton?"—began his great christian poem is not known; but we do know that for many years, mostly under his own roof in Artillery Walk, or while sauntering through the streets of London, when Charles Stuart was amusing himself with his licentious court; when John Dryden was witnessing his own plays performed at the Globe Theatre; when poor Sam Butler was growing morose from neglect and ill usage; when the lively and garrulous Samuel Pepys was running about embalming notes for posterity, and when the Puritan poet's friend, Andrew Marvell, was interesting himself in his behalf—the plan was carried and resolved in the blind man's brain, till at length, he was able to exclaim:

"Give me my lyre!
I feel the stirrings of a gift divine;
Within my bosom glows unearthly fire,
Lit by no skill of mine!"

By dictations of fifty to a hundred lines at a time the work was at last completed. We have no accurate information as to the exact date when "Paradise Lost" was finished, but it was some time previous to the 27th of April, 1667, the day on which it was sold to Samuel Simmons, bookseller, for five pounds down, with a premium of five pounds more when thirteen hundred copies of the first edition were sold, and five pounds when thirteen hundred of the second should have been sold, and so on for successive editions, each edition to consist of 1500 copies.

As originally published, the poem consisted of ten books, and was sold at three shillings. The stipulated 1300 copies were disposed of before the 26th of April, 1669, on which day Milton signed a receipt for the second five pounds, which we have seen hanging in a neat frame on the walls of the famous breakfast room of Samuel Rogers. The remaining 200 copies do not appear to have sold so fast, as it was not until the year of Milton's death that a second edition was published.

In the second edition the ten books are converted into twelve by a division of the seventh and tenth, and there were also some few alterations. A third edition appeared in 1678, and in December, 1690, Mrs. Milton parted with her interest in Paradise Lost for eight pounds, paid to her by Simmons; so that the total amount received by the poet and his family for this matchless work was twenty-seven pounds, or $140—less than Alfred Tennyson was recently paid by the publisher of a popular English periodical for writing a dozen lines.

Artificial Rose Perfume.

It is well known that most perfumes and flavors may now be made without the use of the original substance; modern chemistry having informed us of the composition of many of them, has made the perfumer independent of most of the original plants used. Thus, for instance, the bitter-almond flavor is made from nitro-benzole, which latter is obtained from coal tar, and called oil of myrbane. Pineapple flavor is made from the essence of rancid butter; banana flavor from old cheese; pear flavor from nitrous ether; and oil of cloves from oil of ants. But there are several flavors and perfumes that resist attempts at imitation. Oil of roses was one of these, but it has now been brought within the reach of art, and good rose water has been made from salicine.

This substance is the bitter principle of the young bark of poplars, willows and several other trees. It may be transformed into an acid known as salicylate of potassa. This last substance will decompose spontaneously, and the products of the decomposition possess a strong rose flavor. The cheapest method of obtaining it is to take the oil of wintergreen (Oil. Gaultheriæ), which is comparatively low in price, and, by the way, the heaviest of all essential oils, and boil it with a solution of caustic potassa. The oil of wintergreen has acid properties, and has been proved to be similar in its nature to salicylous acid. The crystalline paste formed by this operation, separated from its mother lye, gives, upon distillation with water, rose water. Perfumers will, no doubt, take advantage of this.—Manufacturer and Builder.

Husband and Wife.

England is revising her laws in respect to property holding by married women. The wife is to be secured in her own property, and to be liable to the parish for the maintenance of her husband, as the latter is liable for the support of his wife. A crusty old bachelor of an editor says that the next step will be to exempt both husband and wife from the pecuniary obligations of the other, and "it is not certain but that the husbands of this country will hold up both hands for such a law." Husbands in England are to be exempt from the debts the wife contracted previous to marriage. In Vermont the old practice with Yankee peddlers was to give unlimited credit to handsome girls, whose prospects for marriage were good. The husband and wife problems are struggling to settle themselves. In China they have long been settled—the husband owns his wife and works her as he works any other domestic animal.

ANOTHER general strike is predicted as near at hand, in both the Lehigh and Schuylkill regions, following the action of the Mauch Chunk meeting of the 12th inst. This, verified, will additionally complicate affairs between the buyer and seller, and the consumer will have his embarrassment at "the situation," in all probability to estimate in paying considerably more for the next orders he may forward.

private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, weakness, indigestion, consumption, avoidance of society, unmanliness, dread of future evil, loss of memory, Indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and the unthinking, imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Obstructions, pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases each year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free of charge or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelope. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enables them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten private rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required for the accommodation of such patients the apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office or by mail for two stamps. No matter what has failed, read what he says. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 17, 1869.

The Titusville Herald of yesterday says: "We are reliably informed that during the first half of this year, two refining firms of Pittsburgh shipped east an aggregate of 50,000 or 54,000 barrels of refined, which has not been reported in the shipments from that place."

That there is some truth in the above report of the Herald, we have reason to believe, as we are cognizant of a considerable amount of oil having been shipped East within the past four or five months which was never reported to the press. These shipments were made on the Western Penna. Railroad, and it is well known that the reporters have been unable to get a report of all the oil that has been shipped by this route, and, as a consequence, the aggregate shipments from Pittsburgh east are considerably larger than our reports would indicate. Whether there has been forwarded on this road as much oil as the Herald reports, is a question of doubt, though it may be true, as we are cognizant of one concern that has shipped over 20,000 bbls since the first of April, of which no report was ever made to the press. This being the case, Pittsburgh is not so much behind in her shipments thus far this year, compared with last year, as the trade has been led to believe, though, in consequence of the inequality in prices, manufacturers generally have made less money, as during part of the time this year, the margin, when there was any, was on the wrong side.

CRUDE.

The market continues very quiet, but a single sale reported, 1,000 bbls spot, at 15. The feeling, however, appears to be easier, with a little stronger inclination in some quarters to sell, though, as yet, there is no disposition manifested to make concessions.

REFINED.

Not a single sale reported; market quiet and without quotable change. Spot oil quoted at 32c last half August, 32¼@32½; September, 32½@33, and last three months, 33.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose a few inches yesterday under the influence of the recent showers, and last evening the Monongahela metal mark indicated about 23 inches. Weather cloudy and unsettled with indications of more rain.

—The Kate Putnam is laid up at Cincinnati.

—A loaded coal barge sunk at Guyandotte last Thursday, in the channel, and two more swung out on the bar.

—Latest Omaha advices report the Missouri river very low, and navigation difficult, even between there and St. Joseph.

—The wreck of the steamer J. N. McCullough, sunk near Madison, is above water; not high enough, though, to allow wreckers to work to advantage.

—The last of the five monitors fitted out for the Government, at Mound City, left there on Saturday. Two passed Memphis the same day, and two more were expected there during the night.

—No arrivals or departures aside from the Monongahela packets. The Petrolia, from Parkersburg, is due to-day, and we suppose she will immediately pass into the hands of her new owners, Capt. John Noss and others.

—Captain J. McAllister, of the Ripley and Portsmouth packet Jonas Powell, has purchased of Captain Newton the steamer Mountain Belle, for $14,000. She will enter the Ripley and Portsmouth trade as a tri-weekly packet.

—The Jefferson arrived at Cincinnati, and is doubtless ere this on the dock undergoing repairs. It will be remembered that she broke about 70 timbers by running on a log, while backing out from the Belmont Iron Mills, at Wheeling.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Capt. David S. H. Gilmore of Pittsburgh, has control of the steamer Arkansas, lately from the mountains. The Arkansas may leave shortly for the Ohio to take her place as a packet between Pittsburgh and Portsmouth.

—We copied an item from the Louisville Courier, the other day, stating that Capt. Milt Aiken, a well-known Louisville steamboatman, together with his family, had been sent to the Almshouse. We now learn from the same source, that it was all a "joke," though a rather serious one on Capt. Aiken.

—More suits are being brought against the Cincinnati & Louisville Mail Packet Company, by relatives of persons who lost their lives by the collision between the America and United States last December. The last is Mrs. Rhoda Taylor, of Louisville; she lays her damages at $10,000 for the loss of her husband Willis Taylor. Willis was an employee on the United States. The total damages claimed in the three suits amounts to $70,000.

—The new South American steamer, Barranquilla, will leave for South America on Thursday next, light, taking in tow a small stern wheel hull to New Orleans. Capt. Thos. S. Calhoon will have charge until she reaches New Orleans, where she will be turned over to her owners, for Capt. J. T. Stockdale, contractor. This is the second boat Capt. Stockdale has built for South America, and we should not be surprised to hear of the Captain building more for the same place.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Monday says: Captain D. M. Dryden will, today, start down the river with the towboat Zebra and a craneboat, to clear out obstructions between here and Louisville, a work to be prosecuted at the expense of the Government. He will have eight men on the craneboat, to perform the necessary labor, and a crew of six men on the Zebra. The party will commence just below the mouth of Mill creek, and whenever a snag is seen below that, it will be pulled.

MR. J. Y. McLAUGHLIN, a gentleman of acknowleged capacity and strict integrity, came up before the Democratic convention, yesterday, for nomination as Sheriff. He was slain, and the empty favor was awarded one who has not the ghost of a chance of even polling a vote equal to that of his contemporaries One Fleming is equivalent to two dozen Stuckraths, and the forthcoming election will demonstrate the fact.

A MUNICIPAL JUDGE, at Wheeling, on Saturday last, fined a colored man $10 and costs for insisting on his right to occupy a seat in a street-car. The Intelligencer sharply but justly criticises the Judge, and the Company whose arbitrary and illegal rule he has undertaken to enforce. If the principal city of West Virginia nullifies the Civil Rights Act in this way, it will scarcely be safe for the Republicans of the State to enfranchise their ex-rebel fellow citizens. We submit the point.

A WESTERN telegram brings a rumor that the President invites Gen. DODGE, the Pacific railway engineer, to take the War portfolio which Gen. RAWLINS is compelled by ill health to resign. There might be many a worse choice and but few better. Gen. DODGE made a brilliant record in the service during the war, and, in subsequent civil life, has exhibited a marked administrative ability. It does not diminish his qualifications for a Cabinet place, that he has been ever known as a Republican of an earnest type.

THE only nomination within the gift of the Allegheny Democracy, which can in any possible manner be construed to mean more than an ignominious defeat, was that awarded to Mr. W. H. McGEE, for County Commissioner. That he will be defeated by the Republican candidate is a foregone conclusion, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. DICKEY will draw largely from the Republican ranks—and from Republican ranks alone—on the Temperance question. It will be child's play to defeat the entire ticket, and we shall waste little powder in helping on the end feat which is certainly inevitable.

THE stout-hearted Democracy of Allegheny county yesterday went through the farce of holding a nominating convention. We can hardly conceive how it is that enough material is found each year for the miserable minority to put forward therefrom a set of candidates. The desire of some men to figure before the public is so great that they are willing, in some cases anxious, to be set up in order to be knocked down, and nowhere else is this peculiarity of character more conspicuous than in the ranks of the Allegheny Democracy. The ticket put forward yesterday by the opposition is very weak, and if it is not defeated by a majority of ten thousand we will be greatly mistaken.

HALL PATTERSON, ESQ., a young lawyer against whose standing and capacity we have nothing to urge, has permitted himself to be set up in mockery as a candidate for the State Senate at the hands of the Democracy. He is the frightful example to be held up to young America, as had he not connected himself with the designing minority a bright and fair fame might have been his own. A good fellow in bad company is unworthy pity, and Mr. PATTERSON has none of ours. He will be laid out as cold as a slab of marble, and his political epitaph is already written on the minutes of the August body which seduced him into lending his name as a leader in a wretched cause. How 'ard will be his death!

WHY should not a thorough-paced politician, like Mr. S. P. CHASE, extend his "heartiest sympathy and aid to any movement for the permanent dissolution of the Republican party?" Neither he nor the party owe each other aught. He has been thrown over-board for more than two years past, and this ought to have been done still a year or two earlier. Within thirty days after his elevation to the Supreme bench, he entered upon these intrigues to secure a Presidential nomination, which were at first within the Republican lines, but when exposed, have since been steadily directed to the destruction of the party. His malice vastly overleaps his ability. It is the Republican safety which recognizes him as an open enemy. Let him perfect the Democratic coalition in which he is now engaged, and which shall prove to that faction how fatally he can be their friend.

IF Mr. A. Johnson shall be chosen a Senator from Tennessee, it will put him in the way of favoring the country with some light upon the operations of his Administration in Southern railways. The opinion is generally prevalent that he aided some of his personal friends to make a good thing out of the restoration of these roads to their old rebel proprietors. There are, indeed, people so uncharitable as to believe that he also feathered his own nest in that way. It is quite probable that some of these transactions will be better ventilated before the present Administration retires from office. One case already occurs, that of the line from Nashville to Chattanooga, and which the facts attending its re-sale by the Quartermaster General, at the close of war, are about to be legally investigated. The Company has utterly failed to make good its stipulated payments to the Government and now replies to the demand of General Meigs for repossession under the contract with a refusal and appeal to the Courts. It would be fortunate for the country, if the issue made in this case shall result in illuminating the public suspicions, as to the extent of the swindle upon the Treasury, and the disposal of the vast amount of confiscated property in the Southern railways.

IT IS THE latest report from Virginia, that the matter of the qualification of the elected members of the Legislature is to be referred to Congress, at its December meeting. The rumor is not credible. The Vth section of the Act, authorizing the submission of the Virginia Constitution, gives to the military officer in command no authority to postpone his official promulgation of the vote thereon; it is the plain intent of that Act, as well as of the Reconstruction Acts proper, that this promulgation shall be made within such reasonable period as may suffice for the receipt and collation of the returns from the polls. And it is expressly required that the Legislature shall meet within four weeks after the result is thus announced. The duty of Gen. Canby is clear enough, and we think he will not flinch from it. The country awaits his action with an impatience which is fortunately tempered by a profound confidence in the courage and discretion of that officer. Such evasive expedients as that to which we have referred, do not comprehend the true policy for dealing with the Richmond school of politicians. These gentlemen, in nominating disqualified candidates for the Legislature, must have known what they were about; it won't hurt them now to be again taught that mere bravado and assurance cannot win; and that the Federal authority is always equal to the situation.

WHEN any set of men identified with the Republican party, actuated by the most praiseworthy of motives, seek to effect a reform in any direction by bolting from nominations, they invariably make the egregious blunder of looking towards Democratic minorities for help. The politicians of the latter school know how to manipulate movements of this character to inure to their own benefit, and at the inception of a bolt they urge it with a zeal and earnestness only equaled by the hollowness and hypocrisy of their sympathies. Good men not trained in politics, and confiding in the sincerity of their fellow-men, are deceived in this manner into a belief of their own strength, which, in the realization, falls wofully behind the expectation. We have a case in view. When our good temperance friends nominated Mr. Isaiah Dickey for the Commissionership, they confidently relied on receiving enough votes for their candidate from the Democratic ranks to secure the election when added to the real strength they hold in the Republican party, but they were counting without their hosts. The bitterness of the struggle in the Democratic Convention yesterday for the nomination to the one office of Commissioner evidenced the fact that the opposition mean to take advantage of the Temperance issue, not to advance the interests of the cause, but to secure the office for one of their own men. They may whisper honied words of comfort to the Temperance people and promise a hearty support, but over their social glasses they will pledge their solid and undivided support to their own nominee, and chuckle with delight on the probability of his election through the internal dissention in the Republican ranks.

THE ARRIVALS of breadstuffs at five of the principal grain-ports of the west this season, up to June 15th, show an excess of one-third over last year, and of one-half over the year preceding. These receipts were all of the last year's crops, which had been retained in first hands in the illusory hope of better prices this year than we had in the autumn of '68. Nor is the old stock yet entirely moved forward; a very considerable remnant is still coming on, and divides the transportation facilities with the new wheat of this year's enormous production. The natural effect, of lower prices, has been partially and temporarily checked by unfavorable reports of the crops in Europe, but must soon be realized again, before the season closes, in rates declining beyond any figures known to the market for several years.

At the same time, it is to be observed that, in place of an immense transportation traffic being shared between railway and water-carriage, and in the face of an unprecedented demand upon all the facilities which can be made use of in getting these crops forward to Eastern markets, the railway lines come so near monopolizing the business that we hear already, from the Lake ports, that vessel and boat-owners are seriously proposing to withdraw from the unprofitable competition. While the carriers by water complain that they can make nothing, the ten leading Western railways show a fifteen per cent. increase in their monthly earnings, in the face of a generally lower tariff of rates.

The situation is one which seems to warrant the conclusion that the prevailing policy of the trunk-lines of rail, in the way of consolidation, and of low rates on through business under competition with each other, will result in securing to them the grain-traffic altogether.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

A writer in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine calls attention to several points which deserve to be considered, in forecasting the financial future of the country. To specify, he insists that there is no lack of capital in the loan-market; that this capital is in few hands; that larger profits are made on capital in New York that in any other market we have; that a very considerable share of the floating capital comes from the country national banks, which their managers find it more profitable to run in Wall street; that owing to the frequent monetary spasms, and the uncertainty of the future, large sums are being embarked in permanent investments, while legitimate business in other forms is suffering and trade is embarrassed. Hence, three inferences are drawn, each of which seems to us to be just; 1st, that there is plenty of money in the country, to avert any real danger of a financial crash: 2nd, that mercantile and industrial enterprise should be carefully restrained within the limits of sound prudence and bona fide means: 3rd, that the country may thus speedily recuperate, and, aided by an unusually bounteous harvest, will soon find itself entering upon a career of more general prosperity than it has ever yet known.

NEW DISCOVERIES IN IRON.

It is certified from the Columbia Iron Works, that the new Field process for making iron from the pig-metal, yields a superior article, is easier worked in puddling, and that the product is five per cent. more than in the ordinary way.

MR. BESSEMER'S latest invention has an important bearing upon the manufacture of iron. By the use of an atmospheric pressure, increased by from fifty to one hundred per cent., and the concentration of the heat therein, the cupola being converted into an air-tight vessel, a charge of such refractory materials as old nails and scraps is melted down in a few minutes without any extravagant wear and tear or consumption of fuel. A London paper says:

An idea of the construction of the furnace may be given in a very few words. It is a cupalo furnace, with a very (comparitively) narrow outlet, closed by a loaded valve to regulate the pressure, while a blast of heatedair is driven in by a powerful engine. A very ingenious mechanical contriyance allows of additions being made to the charge during temporary interruption of the blast until the furnace is worked up to its full capacity.

We learn that a leading iron-master of this city is studying the practical application of a process which was first introduced to the trade a few months since and has attained some novel results, He has patented his improvement, regarding them as of considerable value.

PARTICULAR CAUTION in regard to snakes should be taken at this time of year. Their poison is now almost sure death, and being blind, they strike with fury at every sound. The Marion county (Iowa) Democrat gives the following as an infallible cure for reptile-bites, the physican furnishing it to that paper having tried it in over a dozen cases in that county recently, and in every instance with complete success; One teaspoonful of gunpowder; one tablespoonful of salt; the yellow of one egg; beat them all together, so as to form a plaster, and apply to the wound. A yellow water will issue, and when the plaster becomes soaked with the poison, it will fall off. Renew the plaster until it will adhere to the wound, which is evidence that the poison has all been drawn,

Tennessee Politics.

Nashville advices say: It is unquestionable that Emerson Etheridge and Dorsey B. Thomas, two of the recently elected members of the State Senate, have both pronounced in favor of repudiating a large portion of the State debt, and here at Nashville the idea is indorsed by four-fifths of those who recently voted for Senter.

The most revolutionary proceedings are being expressly advocated. The Union and American, the old Breckenridge and secession organ, declares this morning that the State Government of Tennessee for the past five years was simply a despotism, and demands a convention to make everything new, especially to turn out of office the present Republican Supreme Court. It also demands that no person shall be elected to the Senate of the United States who voted for Grant. Two or three of the leading Democratic papers are endeavoring to moderate the fierceness of their followers, but the country press is almost unanimously for extreme and violent measures. The truth is the Democrats are encouraged at the complete success of the recent conspiracy, and are ripe for further revolutionary action.

I think Andy Johnson's chances for the Senate are not so good as those of Emerson Etheridge.

Senter has gone to East Tennessee. It is reported that in his better moments he expresses deep regret for the part he has taken in assassinating the Republican party of Tennessee, and deep alarm at the wild and revolutionary projects of the Democracy. It is even said that he has gone to call upon Stokes, and consult with him as to whether something may not yet be done to save some remnants of the national party in Tennessee.

Watering Place Gossip.

Long trains are much in vogue at Newport. Mrs. T. K——, of New York, sports an appendage of twelve feet six inches, while charming Miss P——, a beautiful blonde and successful belle, from Philadelphia, wears one measuring thirteen feet eight inches.

The prevailing style of hop and ball toilets at Saratoga inaugurated last month at the Seventh Regiment ball, is an elongated trail, and the most alarming coiffeurs which frighten little children and alarm mankind in general. Contemplate a pretty, graceful creature, with her hair dyed gray, put up in little doughnuts over her eyes, and falling free to her waist. How frightful to behold! Look at the next, Emma Jane. She has got her cranium covered with rats and mice, and has three little tower-like structures on the top, while on the back of her head looms up the house that Jack built, and all this structure composed of posthumous hair. Depending from this mass droops one solitary cork-screw ring, which falls over the left shoulder, and elicits general admiration from la jeunesse d' Amerique.

A Newport letter says: "The Grecian bend has gone by, but of course the dear ladies must have something to occupy their minds with, so they have got a sort of remnant of last summer's folly, reduced, boiled down, and done over with some kind of extract—it's a secret—that gives the devotee much the appearance of the kangaroo, when performing the usually agreeable pastime of locomotion. The delightful (!) fashion has been appropriately named the 'Kangaroo Galop,' and you can at any time see young ladies, apparently with some brains, moving about with a skip and a hop, bouncing up and down at every movement; and stopping suddenly short at the end of each effort.

Where They Come From.

Every eating-house visitor of this and other leading cities of the Union has, doubtless, noticed a small tumbler of wooden toothpicks upon the counter of the cashier for the use of customers. These toothpicks are a good feature of the present day. The wooden toothpicks have, to a considerable extent, superceeded the gold, horn, ivory, and other articles of the kind formerly in use. Their manufacture is carried on by but one establishment, which has been in operation four years. It is near Boston, and employs thirty hands of both sexes. The machinery has been patented, and is propelled by water-power. The woods used are maple and willow.

The agency is solely in this city, and all purchases for use elsewhere must be made here. The tooth-picks are packed in pasteboard boxes of two sizes. One box is three inches long, by two wide and one deep. It contains three hundred, and sells for six cents. The other encloses twenty-five hundred, and is five inches long, three wide and one deep. The boxes are packed in wooden cases for shipment, or retailed in the city singly by the carriers. The sales are quite large, and amount at times to forty and fifty cases a day, each containing one hundred thousand tooth-picks. The aggregate number sold, therefore, amounts in that period to four or five millions.

AT Parmleyville, Wayne county, Ky., on election day, two brothers, named Crisswell, became involved in a difficulty with another man, and an old gentleman named Carson attempted to separate them, when he was shot by one of the Criswells. A son of Carson's—a young man hardly grown—hearing that his father had been shot, attacked the two Criswells with stones, knocking them both down, they shooting at him with pistols all the time, piercing his clothes but doing him no injury. He then ran to the assistance of his father, and when he ascertained he was mortally wounded he returned to where he had left the Crisswells and attacked them the second time with a large stone weighing twenty pounds, while they were lying on the ground, crushing their heads to a perfect jelly, and killing them outright.

GETTYSBURG BATTLE FIELD.—The Gettysburg battle field has achieved new distinction from the late discovery that it was the scene "lang syne" of a bloody struggle between the Indians or some unknown or extinct race. This fact is attested by the examination of the military implements of the combatants, such as arrow heads, battle axes, war clubs, shields, &c., and the remains of the dead in what is known as the Indian Field, about a mile northwest of Round Top and of the National Cemetery. These relics are found thickly imbedded in the soil over the whole area of territory which was the scene of the rebel defeat in 1863.

A YOUNG fellow eating some Cheshire cheese, full of skippers, at a tavern one night, exclaimed: "Now, I have done as much as Sampson, for I have slain my thousands and tens of thousands." "Yes," retorted another, "and with the jaw bone of an ass."

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Rights of Employes.

If it be true that James Swiney, with persistent vindictiveness and armed with a loaded pistol follows Robert Crampton through the streets, breathing dire threatenings against him, and only awaits an opportunity to increase the bill of mortality in the city by his decease. Mr. Sweeney should certainly be arrested, and Alderman McMasters acted in accordance with his usual magisterial judgment in issuing a warrant for his apprehension. It is no excuse for Mr. Swiney that he was acting as driver for Mr. Crampton and was unceremoniously discharged. Perhaps his late employer found it necessary to economize and employ fewer hands, or he might have found his driver not exactly suited to the business, or a more experienced driver wanted the situation. Any of these and a hundred other reasons may have influenced the action which deprived Mr. Swiney of his place. But whatever may have been the cause, it is the undisputed prerogative of an employer, to discharge any of his hands, at pleasure. Trade could not be conducted otherwise in a proper manner. If then, Mr. Crampton after mature deliberation, dispensed with Mr. Swiney's services, it is no reason why his life should be in jeopardy or his friends made to fear for his safety, on account of the ill feeling engendered in Mr. Swiney's mind by the transaction. When that gentleman, however, is secured and the hearing takes place before the Alderman, doubtless these plain facts will be elucidated in such a manner, as to show what should have been his proper course.

Election of School Teachers.

The schools will commence Monday, September 6th.

Thoughtless Remarks.

People should be careful in making disparaging remarks about others. It often leads to trouble. A case yesterday was no exception. David Oler was employed with Wm. Clifford at the transfer station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in the Ninth ward. A passenger train passed along in which were some friends of William which was unknown to David, who thoughtlessly made a remark disparaging of the passengers. Immediately, he alleges, he felt the force of William's fist, and gracefully measured his length on the ground, in a position convenient for William's foot, which was vigorously applied. When the ceremony was over and he stood erect again, he felt considerably bruised and was in a ruffled state of mind, which was increased by the arrival of the "boss," who learning the circumstances promptly discharged both. Being at leisure he meditated upon retahation, and in pursuance thereof, preferred an information before Alderman M'Masters against William for aggravated assault and battery. William was arrested and committed to jail for a hearing.

Too Much to Endure.

Officer Shaffer, of the Allegheny police, has a letter in his possession purporting to be written by Michael Grupert, formerly a resident of Allegheny, but now of Indiana, which is addressed to his wife. The letter is postmarked Elkhart, Indiana, and was sent to Mr. Geo. Lang, of Allegheny. The husband and wife had some difficulty, and have not been living together, the wife having remained in Allegheny. The husband states in his letter that he is anxious for his wife to come to him; that he has written numerous letters to that effect, but has received no answer. He says he is discouraged, and threatens, unless the one addressed to Mr. Lang is answered, he will commit suicide. As the letter has not yet come into the possession of the wife, her place of residence not having been ascertained, it has not been answered. Officer Shaffer has it and will deliver it to the owner if application is made. The letter is dated in July, and it may be that the threat has been executed ere this.

Desperate Attempt at Suicide—A Man Stabs Himself with a Pair of Sheep Shears.

On Thursday of last week a man, seeming to be partially insane, came to the village of Fayette and frightened some of the citizens considerably by his strange actions. He went into a store of the village and informed the persons there that five or six persons were down the road a short distance and would surely break into the store before morning. After he had walked up and down the road several times, he went into a carpenter shop, and seeing a pair of sheep shears he took them up and stabbed himself in the breast. Dr. Sarver, of Noblestown, was sent for and dressed the wound. Had the shears descended half an inch farther the wound would have proved fatal; as it is, he may probably recover. He gave his name as McClure, and said he came from Cumberland, Ohio. He was removed to the County Poor House by Constable Lewis.

United States Court.

In the United States District Court yesterday morning an argument was heard in the case of John Edgar vs. Richard Calhoun, Wm. Rinehart and David Rinehart. John Barton, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ferguson, contra. The Court reserved a decision.

An argument was also commenced in the case of the owners of the steamboat Bayard vs. the steam tug Coal Valley, but it was not concluded. Mr. Barton appeared for the owners of the Bayard, and Mr. Jones for the Coal Valley. The argument will be resumed this morning.

An order was made decreeing George Keyser informer in the case of the United States vs. Peter Anen, and directing the Clerk to pay him his moiety of the funds paid into Court, amounting to $252.71.

A Failure.

Yesterday afternoon Mary Johnston, a colored girl about sixteen years of age, residing on Jefferson street, Second ward, Allegheny, created some excitement in the locality by feigning an attempt at suicide. She was residing in the house with her brother-in-law, and first made every preparation for her departure from terrestial scenes by throwing the greater portion of her raiment into a well on the premises, bidding adieu to several of her friends and sharpening a razor for the last act in the drama of her existence. When all things were in readiness she entered the room where her sister and brother-in-law were seated and flourishing the deadly weapon succeeded in alarming these relatives to such an extent that they laid hold and deprived her of it, not before she had, however, made a slight scratch across the throat which appeared to be a preliminary to the finale. She became so obstroperous after being deprived of the oppertunity of ending her career which she claimed to be so anxious to do, that a couple of policemen had to be called in. They took her to the lockup, where she was allowed to remain for a few hours, when she expressed herself content to live in the world and was allowed to depart. She gave no cause for her action, and after quieting down somewhat, announced her intention of using arsenic in another attempt, a position which she receded from before being released.

MODEL JOURNALISTS.—"It is surprising what a vast number of people there are lying around loose, who are (in their own estimation) so admirably adapted to the work of making model newspapers. Generally, newspaper editors see the imperfections of their work more plainly than any one else, and labor assiduously to correct them; and if those who are constantly finding fault with their work, were for a short time given that work to do, it would make them a great deal more charitable.

THE GRAVE OF HAWTHORNE.—He lies buried close to Thoreau, on the highest point of the Sleepy Hollow cemetery. Two small, oval stones bear the simple name "Hawthorne," without date or anything else. The grave is covered with thick-growing myrtle, and in one corner of the evergreen hedge which surrounds the lot is a hawthorn tree. It is a poet's grave, and nothing in the surroundings of his home can compare with it.—Concord Letter.

THE New Albany Commercial says the cultivated pawpaw is as much an improvement upon the wild fruit of that variety as the pippin is upon the crab-apple. Mr. Ed. Marsh has furnished us samples of the pawpaws grown upon his premises on Lower Third street. They were equal in delicious flavor to peaches and cream. The oppossum is an animal of good taste, because he and man only eat the pawpaw.

CHICAGO, August 17.—At the open board No. 2 wheat closed firm and higher. $1,48 seller the month. Corn quiet, No 2 at 92c. buyer and 90½c. seller the month. In the evening No. 2 wheat closed firm at $1,41½ seller month, and corn at the ruling rates of the afternoon. Lake freights and provisions dull and neglected.

If early resort is had to it.

DR. KEYSER'S BOWEL CUEE is one of the most valuable remedies ever discovered for all diseases incident to this season of the year. Hundreds of sufferers could be relieved in less than a day by a speedy resort to this most valuable medicine, particularly valuable, when the system is apt to become disordered by the two free use of unripe and crude vegetables.

Price 50 Cents. Sold at DR. KEYSER'S GREAT MEDICINE STORE, 167 Liberty St., and by all druggists.

A LIFE-SAVING ARRANGEMENT.

A radical change has been introduced in the practice of medicine. Physicians have ceased to torture and prostrate their patients. Instead of pulling down, they build up; instead of assaulting nature, they assist her. Cupping, leeching, blistering, venesection, calomel, antimony, stupifying narcotics, and rasping purgatives, once the favorite resources of the faculty, are now rarely resorted to even by the most dogmatic members of the profession. The old creed was that disease was something which must be expelled by violent artificial means, irrespective of the wear and tear of the vital organization in the process. The new creed recognizes the improvement of the general health as essential to the cure of all local ailments. Hence it is that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most potent vegetable tonic that pharmacy has ever brought to the assistance of nature in her struggles with disease, has been cordially approved by practitioners of the modern school. It is pleasant to reflect that reason and philosophy have at last been victorious over the errors of the past, and that thousands and tens of thousands of human beings are alive and well to-day, who would indubitably be mouldering in their graves had they been subjected to the pains and penalties which were deemed orthodox and indispensable thirty or forty years ago.

Preventive medication was scarcely thought of then; but now it is considered of paramount importance, and the celebrity of the STANDARD INVIGORANT, ALTERATIVE AND RESTORATIVE of the age, (a title which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have fairly earned by their long career of success), is mainly due to its efficiency as a PROTECTIVE PREVENTIVE.

A course of the BITTERS is urgently recommended at this season of the year, as a safe and certain antidote to the malaria which produces intermittent and remittent fever, diarrhea, dysentery and other maladies.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. TUESDAY, August 17, 1869.

Gold seems to have touched its lowest point for the present, at noon yesterday selling at 133, from which it advanced again to 133¾, closing at 133¼. The uncertainty of the future Treasury movements, especially the fact whether governments will sell any more gold during the coming month, and what amount of currency will be put out for the purchase of bonds, keeps the business community in suspense. Continued disbursements would keep the money market easy during a period where large shipments of currency have to be made south and west for the moving of cotton and grain, whilst on the other hand, a pinch in the money market would carry down gold and bonds. If gold could permanently be kept down, this anticipated stringency would be a great benefit to the country, but low prices for gold at present, would stimulate imports to such an extent, that all our rich crops will barely suffice to pay for the excess of imports.

Government bonds still further declined to-day, but were steady at the lowest point, with some inquiry for bonds for investment; it seems, however, as if bonds would go down still further.

Stocks are dull but steady. Money in sufficient supply during the dull season, but an active money market is anticipated, and banks are preparing for it.

Stock market steady during the forenoon with fair dealing; Wabash being exceptionally strong and active. The opening sale was at 75⅛ which was followed by a rapid advance to 79, at which figure large amounts were purchased under the impression that the conference which has recently taken place between officials of this company, the Lake Shore, M. S., and Erie, will ultimately result in the consolidation of Wabash and M. S., and that this consolidation will be in the interest of the Esie company. Prices subsequently returned to 75¼. The market soon after the second call became strong with North Western and Michigan Southern as special features, the first named advanced to 80⅛ for common, and 90½ for preferred and Michigan Southern to 106¼; the Vanderbilt shares were, however, weak and lower. Pacific Mail was active and touched 85. The market finally closed dull but steady.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, August, 17 1869.

The most important feature we have to notice to-day is a material decline in, Wheat at Chicago, under the influence it is said, of the foreign news. The season is now sufficiently advanced to demonstrate almost beyond a doubt that a very large crop has been safely secured, and unless there is a stiff foreign demand, it seems almost as certain as anything can be, that prices must go lower. Speculation may keep it in check for the time being, but once the crop commences to move freely, unless Europe is prepared to take our surplus, a decline seems almost inevitable. It is to be hoped that there will be a good export demand for breadstuffs, as in that event the farmer will get a fair price for his product, business generally would be strengthened and improved thereby, and, besides, nothing could do more towards bringing down gold and hasten forward a resumption of specie payments.

The markets in a general way, present nothing really new or important. Flour is quiet but firm, and while the demand is confined entirely to supplying immediate wants, prices are unchanged. Grain is unsettled and irregular, while provisions are in steady demand and prices well sustained. We do not remember of ever seeing more fruit and "green truck" in this market than at present. Commission houses are nearly all full and overflowing, and much of it that comes from the east, does not more than pay freight and commission, if it does that. Potatoes, apples, tomatoes, peaches, pears and other articles in same line, are being sold almost for a song, and while this is all very comforting for the consumer, it is hard on the shipper and producer.

APPLES—Continue very dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand; we continue to quote at $1,50@2,50@3 per bbl.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at 20@25, for fair to choice.

BERRIES—Sales of Blackberries at 90@$1 per bucket.

BEANS—Sales at $1,75@2.

BROOMS—Quoted as follows: No. 5 $6,50; No. 4 $6; No. 3 $5, No. 2, plain, $4,50, and market firm.

CHEESE—Is firmer but unchanged; Western Reserve 13½@14; Ohio Factory 14½@15; Ohio Goshen 15½ and York Goshen 16¼.

CEMENT—Johnstown Hydraulic Cement is quoted at $2,25 per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands may be quoted at 28 for 50 or 100 bbl lots and 30 in a retail way.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged; sales at 14@15.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The arrivals are increasing somewhat, mostly all Winter Wheat, the high price of Spring having pretty effectually played it out in this market, and, with the exception of some of the bakers, consumers, prefer the former to the latter at the same price. Winter Wheat flours are being sold at $7,00@$7,50 while Choice Springs are quoted at $7,50@7,75.

GRAIN—Wheat is in steady milling demand with sales of prime new at $1,40, and prime old at $1,45. New Oats, if anything, a shade firmer, but unchanged; we continue to quote at 50@52 on wharf and track; 54@55 for small lots in store and 45@48 for future delivery. Sales of prime old reported at 65, to go east. Corn is quiet; sales on wharf at 95@$1,00, and in store at $1,03@1,05. Rye is in demand at $1,15@1,20. Barley nominal at $1,25@1,30.

HAY—Sales 59 loads at Allegheny Diamond market at $13@19—mainly at $14@17. Straw sold at $19.

HEMP—Very dull, $205 per ton.

HUSKS—Sales at 2¾@3 cts per pound.

LIME—White Lime is quoted at $1,50, and Cleveland at $2,50, per bbl.

LARD OIL—F. Sellers & Co. quote Extra No. 1, at 1,40@1,43, and No. 2, at $1,05.

POULTRY—Sales of spring chickens, at 60@65 per pair.

PROVISIONS—Firm but unchanged. Shoulders, 15¾@16; Ribbed and Clear Sides, 18½@19½; Cincinnati Sugar Cured Hams 23½ and fancy 24. Lard, 20¼ in tierces, and 20½@21 in half bbls and kegs. Dried Beef 21½. Mess Pork at $33,75@34.

PEANUTS—Sales, at 12½.

WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, August 17, 1869.

The market remains quiet without any change in prices. The coarse and medium wools being generally sold out of first hands the attention of buyers is directed more to the fine wools. In the eastern markets fine wools still remain neglected and slow of sale, and this induces greater caution on the part of buyers than was shown in the early part of the season in purchasing the lower grades. We quote fine wools at 43@55, country wool and tub washed, at 45@50.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, August 17.—The Dry Goods market is more active and prices are generally firm for all staple goods.

TOLEDO, August 17.—Flour steady. Wheat 4@5c. lower, sales white Michigan at $1,55; regular $1,42; No. 2 Wabash $1,50@1,54; amber Michigan $1,45; No. 1 red $1,45; No, 2 do. $1,44; No. 3 do. $1,30. Corn a shade better at 98c. for No. 1; No. 2 96c. Oats 1c. lower; sales No. 1 at $1,55. Receipts were 3,500 bbls. flour, 125,000 bush. wheat, 30,000 bush. corn, 22,800 bush. oats, 740 bush. rye. Shipments were 3,700 bbls flour, 58,700 bush. wheat 21,200 bush. corn, 800 bush. rye.

CHICAGO, August 17.—Cattle dull and weak; $3,25@4 for stockers, $4@4,50 for Cherokee steers, $5,25 for good cows, $7@7,25 for good shipping steers. Hogs steady and firm; $8,50@8 85 for common, $9@9,40 for fair to medium, $9,50@9,65 for good to choice, and $10,12½@10,25 for extra assorted lots.

ST. LOUIS, August 17.—Cattle in good supply and small demand, except for choice butchers' stock; prices range 2@@5¾c for very inferior to prime, 6@6½c for choice. Hogs active and firm at 8@10c for light to heavy.

EVERYTHING UPSIDE DOWN.

A letter from Foochow, China, gives an amusing sketch of the contrast between the social customs of the Flowery Land and the Land of Liberty. He says:

During our stay at Foochow I visited, accompanied by our missionaries long resident there, a number of the Chinese, and had an opportunity of observing their social habits and customs. How totally different they are from us in their habits, ways, mode of education, morals, everything! No wonder that we are "outside barbarians" to them and they "knights of the umbrella, fan, petticoats and pig tail" to us. To show how strangely the way they "live, move and have their being" appears to foreigners I shall quote from a recent traveller: On inquiring from the boatman in which direction Macoa lay, I was answered west-north, and the wind, he said, east-south. "You do not say so in Europe," thought I. But imagine my surprise when, in explaning the utility of the compass, he added that the needle pointed south!

On landing the first object that attracted my attention was a military officer, who wore an embroidered petticoat with a string of beads round his neck and a fan in his hand. His insignia of rank was a peacock feather pointing downwards, instead of a plume turning upward, and a button on the apex of his sugar loaf cap, instead of a star on his breast or epaulettes on his shoulders, and it was with some dismay I observed him mount on the right side of his horse. Several scabbards hung from his belt, which of course I thought must contain dress swords or dirks, but on venturing near, through the crowd, I was surprised to see a pair of chopsticks and a knife handle sticking out of one, and soon his fan was folded up and put in the other, whereupon I concluded he was going to a dinner instead of a review. The natives around me had all shaved their hair on the front of their heads and let it grow long behind. Many of them did not shave their faces, but their mustaches grew over their mouths, and, lest some straggling hairs should diverge cheekways, the owners were busily employed pulling them down. We arrange our toilets differently, thought I, but I acknowledged the happy device of chopsticks, which enabled these gentlemen to put their food into the mouth endwise underneath the natural fringe.

On my way back to the hotel I saw a group of old people, some of whom wore gray beards; a few were chirruping and chuckling to singing birds, which they carried perched on sticks or in cages, others were catching flies to feed them, and the remainder of the party seemed to be delightfully employed in flying kites, while a group of boys wers looking gravely on and regarding these innocent occupations of their seniors with the most serious and gratified attention.

As I had come to the country to reside for some time, I made inquiries respecting a teacher, and happily found one who understood English. On entering he stood at the door, and instead of coming forward and shaking my hands, he politely bowed and shook his own, clasping them before him. I looked upon this mdoe as a decided improvement, especially in doubtful cases, and requested him to be seated. I knew I was to study a language without an alphabet, but was somewhat astonished to see him begin at what I considered the end of the work. He read the date of publication, "the fifth year, tenth month and first day." "We arrange our dates differently," I observed, and begged him to read, which he did, from top to bottom and from right to left. "You have an odd book here," I remarked, taking it up; "what is the price?" "A dollar and eight-thirds," said he, upon which I counted out three dollars and went on looking at it. The paper was printed only on one side, the running title was on the edge of the leaves instead of the top of the page, the paging was near the bottom, the number and contents of chapters at their ends, the marginal notes on the top, where the blank was double the size of that at the foot, and a broad black line across each page separated the two words composing the volume, instead of one being printed after the other. The back was open and sewed outside, and the name of the work written on the upper edge. "You have given me too much," said he, handing me two dollars and one-third, and then explained that eight-thirds was eight divided by three, or only three-eights. A small vocabulary he carried with him had the sounds arranged according to their termination—ming, king, sung, being all in a row, and the first word in it was sein. "Ah, my friend," said I, "English won't help you to find a word in that book. Please give me your address." He accordingly took out a red card as big as a sheet of paper, instead of a neat white strip, and wrote "Wer Lanyean." "I thought your name was Mr. Wer. Why do you write your name wrong end first?" I inquired. "It is you who are wrong," replied he. "Look in your own directory, where alone you write names as they should be, placing the honored family name first."

I could only say, "Customs differ," and giving back the book begged him to speak of ceremony. He commenced: "When you receive a distinguished guest do not fail to give him a place on your left, for that is the seat of honor, and be cautious not to uncover the head, as that would be an unbecoming act of familiarity." This was a severe blow to my established notions; but when he reopened the volume and read, "The most learned men are decidedly of the opinion that the seat of human understanding is in the belly," I exclaimed, "better say in the feet," and immediately shut up the book, dismissing him until another day, for this shocked all my principles of correct philosophy, even if Solomon was against me.

On going abroad I met so many things contrary to all my preconceived ideas of propriety that I really assented to a friend's observation "that the Chinese were our antipodes in many things beyond location." "Indeed," said I, "they are so; I shall expect shortly to see a man walking on his head. Look! there's a woman in trowsers and a party of gentlemen in petticoats; she is smoking a cigar and they are fanning themselves." But I was taught not to trust to appearance too much, as on passing I saw the latter wore light undergarments. We soon after met the steward dressed in white, and I asked him what merrymaking he was invited to; with the look of the deepest concern he told me he was returning from his father's funeral. Soon after we passed where we heard sobbing and crying, and I asked who was ill; the man suppressing a smile said, "It is a girl about leaving home to be married, who is lamenting with her fellows."

I thought after these unlucky essays I would ask no more questions, but use my eyes instead. Looking into a shop I saw a stout fellow sewing lace on a bonnet for a Portuguese lady, and going on to the landing place, beheld! all the ferry boats were rowed by women, and from a passage boat just arrived, I saw the females get out of the cabin at the bow. "What are we coming to next," said I; and just then I saw a carpenter take his foot rule out of his stocking to measure some timber, which his apprentice was cutting with a saw whose blade was set nearly at right angles with the frame. Before the door sat a man busily engaged in whitening the thick soles of a pair of shoes. "That's a shoe white, I suppose," said I, "and he answers to the boot black of other lands." "Just so," said my friend, "and beyond him is a poor wretch with a board around his neck for a shirt collar, for he has got into chokey, an article of his toilet which answers to the gyves with which those lads in the Tombs are garnished instead of bangles."

In the alleys called streets the signs stood on their ends, and the pigs were packed in baskets, which coolies were carrying, to the infinite satisfaction of their inmates; and the shops seemed to have lost their fronts and ejected their inmates into the streets; where they were eating, cooking, working, selling and sleeping in every imaginable way. A loud voice led us to look in at an open door to see what was going on, when we saw it was a school and the boys were learning their lessons, all crying like auctioneers. We next passed a fashionable lady stepping out of her chair, her feet only three inches long, her plaited and embroidered petticoat a foot longer than her gown, and smallest at the bottom, and her waist quite concealed. Then came an acquaintance of my friend, accompanying a splendidly carved coffin. "Who's dead?" asked he. "No man hab die," replied the Celestial; "this one piece of coffin I presented to my old fader; he likee too much, count my number one proper; 'spose he die, he can usee he!" "So, he?" rejoined my friend, "how much price can catchee one all same for that?" "I think can catchee one alla same so fashion one tousand dolla', so, this hab first chop handsome, lo."

"Do you call that gibberish English or Chinese?" said I, for the language sounded no less strange than the custom of presenting a coffin to a live father differed from my preconceived notions of filial affection. "That's the pure Canton English," said he, "you must be a Jack Downing of Canton to immortalize it." "Come, rather let us go home," said I, "for I am getting dizzy and shall soon be upside down in this strange country."

The foregoing is a somewhat ludicrous, but a graphic and truthful description of the strangeness of China to a foreigner, and this oppositeness extends to every thing. Their common drink is warm, and ours cold, their dinner commences with confectionary and fruits and ends with soup; they remove their shoes as a token of respect (Moses did the same) we the hat. In fact in almost every popular manner are they our opposites. And yet they have a civilization all their own, and which, though derived from the most remote antiquity, in many respects equals, in some excels ours.

How Paper and Cloth may be Rendered Water-proof.

Mr. N. C. Szerlmey, of Pimlico, England, has recently invented a mode of rendering paper and other like materials water-proof, which is thus described: He melts, in ten pints of hot water, thirty ounces of glue, gelatine, or size, and three ounces of gum arabic In another thirty pints of hot water, he melts twenty ounces of soap and four pounds of alum, afterward mixing together the whole liquid in one pot. This is composition No. 1. In another pot he heats half a gallon of benzole and one gallon of paraffine oil, and melts in it twenty-four ounces of resin. To these materials, resin, oil and copal or mastic varnish may in some cases be added, and he lets it boil until it attains a moderate degree of consistency. This is composition No. 2. He first dips the article to be water-proofed into composition No. 1, in a heated state, and afterwards dries it; then he applies the second composition, in a cold state, with a brush, or in other convenient manner.

This recipe is very easily tested, and if it should prove reliable, it will prove of great value for many purposes. Applied to wall paper in damp houses, it could hardly fail to be of service if it fulfills the inventor's description.—Manufacturer and Builder.

THE SALE OF SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS in Gothenburg, Sweden, after a variety of experiments by the authorities, is carried on according to the following method: A reform society of gentlemen of high social standing has obtained entire control of the traffic in spirits in the city, under an agreement to apply the whole of the profits above expenses for the benefit of the poor. The society, it is reported, has reduced the number of licensed houses to less than forty, one-third of the former number, and has bound the proprietors to sell only at fixed prices, giving a profit of only one and a half per cent., with obligations to keep a supply of all harmless drinks, including beer, at whatever profits they could command, thus making it the interest of the venders to sell these drinks instead of liquors. The effect, it is asserted, has been an almost entire cessation of drunkenness.

The Des Moines, Iowa, State Register says: "Contrary to most expectations wheat is turning out a much better crop than was expected. A gentleman who has been threshing ever since grain has been fit, states that not a field has been threshed by him that did not average fifteen bushels to the acre, while some others turned out eighteen and twenty bushels of good grain. In some localities the grain is pretty badly shrivelled, but taken altogether an average crop may be expected, and at least as many bushels will be marketed this fall as there were last. We have been told of a two-fold patch of wheat, grown from seed brought from Kansas, that threshed out sixty-six bushels of the best wheat grown in that section this season. That's a pretty heavy yield, if the seed did come from Kansas."

BURLINGTON, VT., has been christened the "City of Mary" by the Pope, in a document signed with his hands, and among the privileges conferred on the new Catholic Church there is to possess a statue of the Virgin, blessed and indulgenced by the holy father.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 325 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his friends having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 34 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

SEWING MACHINES.

UNRIVALLED!

THE

WHEELER & WILSON

Sewing

Machines.

LEADS ALL COMPETITORS.

The distinctive feature of the WHEELER & WILSON MACHINE is the use of a ROTARY HOOK to carry the loop of the upper thread around the spool containing the under, making the lock-stitch alike on both sides of the fabric, thereby doing away completely with the vibratory motion of a shuttle, the tension upon the under thread, and all devices for taking up slack thread; these are necessary on all two-thread Sewing Machines. The public have indorsed this principle by purchasing over 380 000 of our Machines—more than 100,00 in excess of those of any other manufacture! It has long been acknowledged by far the most simple Lock-stitch Machine in existence; having one-third less machinery than any other two thread Sewing Machine.

(From the London Times.)

"The WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE, which is the ONE BEST CALCULATED FOR HOUSEHOLD WORK, uses no shuttle, and makes the LOCK STITCH alike on both sides of the goods.

"Some of the Sewing Machines are very extravagant in the use of thread; one of the most noted of those making the double loop chain stitch, using six yards of thread to one of sewing. This is a serious matter, looked upon in a manufacturer's point of view, where the great aim is to economize the material."

Thousands of Testimonials could be given from all parts of the world, were it necessary to the reputation of this well-known Family Sewing Machine.

I beg to state that I have used my Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, in family sewing, fourteen years, without even the most trifling repairs; and it is in so good condition that I would not exchange it for your latest number (now upwards of 300,000). One needle served me more than a year in fine sewing.

MRS. ANNIE WARNER.

NEW YORK.

Mrs. Maxley has had her Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine in almost daily use for over eleven years without any repairs. She has done, with her own hands, during that period, the larger portion of the sewing for a family of eleven children on the machine, and part of the time for fifteen or twenty farm servants. She would not now change her Wheeler & Wilson for any other she has ever seen.

R. MAXLEY.

BRANDON, MISS.

Capt. J. YOUNG, JR., of Robinson township, Allegheny county, says: We have used the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine in our family two years. My daughter received but two lessons, and is able to accomplish every variety of sewing without any difficulty whatever. We had used the "Howe" and "Grover & Baker," and after a fair trial of these three leading machines, we can most confidently assert that no machine is so simple or so well adapted for ladies' and family use, as the "Wheeler & Wilson."

My wife has used her Wheeler & Wilson Machine ten years without repairs, and has used only one needle for the last three years.

CHARLES J. GRAY.

NEWBURG, N. Y.

Ten years ago I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, and have had it in constant use in my family since. We used it during the war to make clothing for our volunteers in the service, and for the hospitals, and this work was very heavy, being coarse woolen and cotton fabrics. It is still in good working order, nothing having been broken but a few needles. You are welcome to use my name in your recommendations.

MRS. HUGH McCULLOCH.

GREY NUNNERY, MONTREAL.

We, the undersigned, Sisters of Charity, certify with pleasure that, after a trial of ten years, we have found Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines superior in every respect to all others used in our establishment. Their mechanism is strong and perfect, and with little care never get out of order.

SISTER COULTER,
SISTER BAYEUX,

In order to facilitate the sale of, and place a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine within the reach of every one, we propose to lease them on the following terms: We will furnish one of our celebrated Sewing Machines to any one depositing with us fifteen dollars as security for its safe keeping, and paying us ten dollars per month for the use of the same. When the monthly payments and deposit amount to a sum equal to the Cash Price of the Machine, we will give a receipt in full for the Machine.

Warden Scandrett received fifteen prisoners yesterday.

To-day the jail will be relieved of nine inmates. They go to Claremont.

Yesterday morning Mayor Drum disposed of eight common cases.

Sabbath School Celebration.—A Sabbath School celebration will be held at Union Church, Robinson township, on Thursday, August 26th.

Hopkins & Co. received the contract for furnishing Allegheny City public buildings with five thousand bushels of coal, at eleven cents per bushel.

Committed. — Yesterday Alderman Thomas committed Edwin Henry for a hearing, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Catharine Cassell.

The Camp Meeting at Leetsdale, fifteen miles below the city, will commence today. It promises to be largely attended. About eighty tents have been erected on the ground.

Personal.—Governor Geary is at his old home in Westmoreland county. He will remain at Greensburg for several days, and visit Latrobe, Alexandria and Harrison City, returning to Harrisburg in about a week.

Alleged Larceny.—Yesterday afternoon George Warner was arrested on an information for larceny, preferred against him by a Market street dry goods merchant. He is charged with procuring a key to the store, entering the establishment at night and stealing silks and other goods, which he would peddle during the day. He was committed for a hearing.

Intoxicated.—Yesterday afternoon an officer observed a woman lying in the gutter in front of the Columbia Engine House, Allegheny, in a state of intoxication. She was taken to the lock up, and after sobering somewhat, went into convulsions, but soon recovered. She refused to give her name, and remained in the lock-up last evening, being unfit to leave. She will be set at liberty to-day.

Found Drowned.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday, on the body of an old man named Hugh McCoy, who was found drowned the previous evening, in the Monongahela river at Soho. He left his home at eleven o'clock last Wednesday forenoon, and was not seen or heard of afterward until his body was found as stated. The jury returned a verdict of "found drowned." Deceased leaves a wife and three children. His remains were taken home this morning.

Restored to Her Grand-parents.—By private advices we learn that little Mary Whiting, the interesting child taken from her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dignum, formerly of this city, by action in habeas corpus case last March, has been restored to them by her father. This will be gratifying to all those acquainted with the case, as the child was taken away from its grand-parents under peculiarly hard circumstances. She will now be raised, educated and adopted as one of Mr. Dignum's own family.

Locked Up.—Yesterday afternoon officer Graham, of the Allegheny police, arrested a suspicious character who was endeavoring to sell a box of tobacco on Onio street, Third ward. When brought to the lock-up he was recognized as a well known character, named Smith. He was quite impudent and refused to give any information concerning his actions. He was accordingly locked up until this morning. The box was marked M. J. Green, Rosston, Pa., and contained apparently a considerable quantity of plug tobacco.

More Room.—Hugh Mahon and Austin Gannon are rival hucksters in the Diamond market, and transact business at adjoining stands. Yesterday Mahon's business having increased, he desired more room and requested Gannon to "move over," a demand which, he alleges was refused. A row ensued when, it is stated, Gannon struck him, which he considered sufficient cause for an assault and battery information, which he made before Alderman Taylor, and upon which a warrant for the alleged offender was issued.

The Duquesne Grays.

Last evening another meeting was held in the hall of the Third National Bank Building, by the members of the Duquesne Grays.

Captain Petrie, from the Committee on Constitution and By-laws, presented the draft of that document which, after being slightly amended, was adopted. The Committee on Uniform exhibited a cap, same style as that worn by the Seventh New York Regiment, which was also adopted. Routine business of no general interest occupied the remainder of the meeting.

The Hamill-Coulter Race To-Morrow Afternoon.

The arrangements for a scull-race between Hamill and Coulter were fully concluded at Mr. Tom Bailey's La Belle Saloon, on Smithfield street, yesterday. The race, according to the articles of agreement signed by both the men, will be over the Monongahela river course from Glenwood to Soho and return, for a purse of five hundred dollars aside. Tomorrow afternoon has been fixed as the time. Daniel O'Neill, Esq., editor of the Dispatch, was chosen stakeholder, and he holds the sum of one thousand dollars, to be passed over to the best man in the contest. Both the men are in training at their boat houses, and both are said to be in excellent condition.

A City Editor Complimented.

Yesterday our genial friend, William Ramsey, Esq., City Editor of the Pittsburgh Post, was nominated by acclamation in the Democratic Convention for Clerk of the Orphans' Court. The compliment was unsolicited, and was most worthily bestowed, as there are few more earnest, consistent and hard working Democrats than Mr. Ramsey found inside our county limits, and none possess higher qualifications for any clerical office in the gift of his party. While we do not anticipate that he will defeat the courteous and capable Colonel Hilands, the Republican candidate, still we will make a wager that he runs far ahead of any candidate on the ticket yesterday put forward, and in many respects is the best and strongest gentleman named for leadership by our Democratic friends.

POLITICAL.

Democratic County Convention—The Organization—Scenes of Confusion—Report of Committee on Contested Seats—The Nominations—Resolutions, &c.

The delegates elected by the Democracy on Saturday, the 14th inst., assembled in Convention in the Supreme Court Room yesterday morning for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the several county and other offices to be filled at the ensuing October election.

The Convention was called to order at half-past ten o'clock by T. J. Keenan, Chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee, who stated that he was ex-officio temporary chairman. After stating the object of the Convention he said that the Democracy had assembled and were ready to do their duty to their party. It had been his privilege for several years past to perform the duties which he was now performing for the last time, as he had positively declined to accept the position of chairman of the Committee for another term. The duties, he said, would fall into other and abler hands. He announced that the first business in order would be the election of temporary Secretaries.

On motion, the following named gentlemen were elected: S. C. McCandless, George H. Kuhn, W. M. Rafferty, Ed. J. Hughes and Charles B. Mowry.

The credentials of the delegates were then called for, and by the method adopted a very full representation was obtained. When a district was called, if there were no credentials handed in, some gentleman would give the names of two persons, which would be entered by the Secretaries, about one-fourth of the districts being represented in this manner.

In calling over the districts, it was ascertained that there were contests for the seats in three districts, the Fifth ward, Eighth ward and McClure township.

Christy Bradford, a claimant from the Fifth ward, whose right to a seat was contested by C. B. Strain, handed in his credentials, and Alderman J. A. Strain announced that the seat was contested.

Christy replied that Mr. Strain was not a member of the Convention and had no right to speak.

When McClure township was called, R. H. Kerr, Esq. before handing in his credentials desired to explain the contest in his district.

The Chairman ruled him out of order and stated that it would be necessary to appoint a committee on contested seats to whom this matter would have to be referred.

Mr. Kerr replied that it would not be necessary to appoint a committee in the case of McClure township as the contest was bogus.

On motion of W. D. Moore, Esq. the Chair appointed a committee of five on contested seats. The following gentlemen constitute the committee: Messrs. John R. Large, W. H. Reel, Henry Freyvogle, George H. Kuhn, W. D. Moore.

While the Chairman was announcing the committee, Christy Bradford, one of the contestants from the Fifth ward, rose to his feet and remarked in an excited manner: "I don't want no wire pulling. I was elected fairly and don't want to be chisseled out of my seat."

On motion, the Convention took a recess for fifteen minutes, it having been announced that no business could be transacted until the report of the Committee on Contested Seats was received.

By this time the Committee, which had retired to the Grand Jury room, were organized and at work, and the delgates, anxious to hear the fun, crowded the room.

After waiting half an hour, the Chairman called the meeting to order, and stated that he had visited the Committee during the recess. They had a Convention of their own up stairs, and were having a warm time.

At his suggestion the Convention adjourned until one o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The Convention met at one o'clock, pursuant to adjournment.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

Mr. Large, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, submitted a report which was, in substance as follows:

In the case of McClure township the Committee recommend both sets of delegates be admitted, and allow one vote to each set of delegates.

In the case of the Fifth ward, Pittsburgh, the Committee find that Chas. B. Strain and John O'Neill are entitled to the seats.

In the Eighth ward, Pittsburgh, Jno. T. Dignam and Joseph Lofink were declared entitled to seats.

The report was adopted and the Committee discharged.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to a permanent organization by the election of a Chairman.

The following named gentlemen were placed in nomination: James Hopkins, W. D. Moore, and C. Magee, Esqrs.

Mr. Magee declined to be a candidate, and, on motion, was permitted to withdraw his name.

On motion, it was resolved to vote viva voce for the candidates.

Mr. Sill moved that when only one delegate represented a district, he be empowered to cast two votes.

Mr. C. B. Strain objected, stating that according to rules governing Democratic Conventions, delegates were entitled to vote for absent colleagues.

The Chairman decided that this Convention was not bound by the rules of any former convention.

The question then recurring on Mr. Sill's motion it was adopted.

Christy Bradford, at this point arose and "appealed" to the Convention. He said he had been duly elected, and defied Mr. Strain to produce credentials. [Cries of "put him out;" "no you wont," followed in rapid succession.]

The chairman stated that the convention had settled that matter.

The Secretary then proceeded to call the roll of delegates, and when the name of C. B. Strain, from the Fifth ward, was called, Christy Brapford cried out in a loud voice, "I appeal from that vote." [Cries of "put him out," followed.]

Order being restored, the Secretaries proceeded to call the roll, and all passed off quietly until McClure township was reached. R. H. Kerr, Esq., arose and stated that he was informed that the Committee on Credentials had admitted both sets of delegates. He desired to state that he and his colleague would withdraw from the Convention; that the Committee had outraged decency by their action. Cries of "he is out of order," and "put him out," followed. The chair decided that Mr. Kerr, being called upon to vote, had a right to make an explanation. Mr. Kerr then retired.

Mr. Moore being called upon to vote after casting his vote for Mr. Hopkins moved that gentleman be declared the unanimous choice of the Convention for permanent chairman. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Hopkins, on being introduced to the Convention, addressed the delegates briefly, thanking them for the favor conferred upon him.

The Chairman then stated that the next business in order would be the completing of the organization.

The following named gentlemen were elected Vice Presidents: J. A. Hunter, Robt. Sidell, W. B. Moore, R. S. Morrison and J. R. Large.

On motion, the temporary Secretaries were elected permanent Secretaries.

On motion, a Committee of Five was appointed to draft resolutions, as follows: Messrs. Hunter, Bailey, Moore, Keenan and McKinley.

A delegate moved that the resolutions and platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention be adopted by this Convention.

Several amendments were made, upon which considerable discussion ensued, and a vote being taken the amendments and original motion were defeated.

AN ABSENTEE.

The Chairman then read a letter from Gen. Cass, expressing his regrets at being unable to attend the Convention, in consequence of severe illness.

A delegate proposed three cheers for Gen. Cass, which was responded to.

On motion of Mr. Keenan the letter was received and entered upon the minutes.

THE CANDIDATES.

On motion it was resolved to proceed to place in nomination candidates for the several offices to be filled at the ensuing election; and the following names were suggested:

For Judge of District Court.—John McClarren and John H. Bailey.

Assistant Law Judge of the Common Pleas.—A. W. Foster, Thos. C. Lazear, John R. Large.

State Senate.—Hall Patterson, William Linn.

Assembly—John H. Irwin, Jacob Lashell, J. H. Stewart, M. Lipp, James Calhoun, A. B. Oliver, Joseph Lofink, Sr., S. C. M'Candless, John P. Heisel, R. Koenig, James H. Thaw, Ed. J. Hughes, Jno. Murray, W. C. Dean, C. H. Paulson, J. P. Pearson, Wm. M'Cormick, Thomas A. Spence, John L. Kerr and John Moreland.

Sheriff—J. Y. M'Laughlin, Jacob Stuckrath and Geo. L. Miller

The Chairman stated that Mr. Blackman positevely declined to permit his name to be used.

Treasurer—D. Ihmson and T. B. Swearingen.

Clerk of Courts—W. F. Farley.

Recorder—W. N. Fleming and Capt. C. B. McCullough.

Commissioner—W. H. McGee, Isaac Bausman and James Irwin.

Register—D. O. C. Lambert and J. B. Moore.

Clerk of Orphans' Court—William Ramsey.

Director of the Poor—John R. Large, R. B. Guthrie, Chas. Bryson and T. B. Ryrie.

On motion, Mr. Ramsey, for Clerk of the Orphans' Court, was nominated by acclamation.

Mr. Large moved that the delegates proceed to vote by marking.

A delegate moved to amend by voting viva voce. The amendment was lost.

The question recurring on the original motion, it was adopted.

A delegate moved that the candidates receiving the highest number of votes be declared the nominees.

Mr. Reel amended by moving that the office of Commissioner be excepted from this rule.

The motion as amended was adopted, and the Secretaries proceeded to call the names of delegates, commencing with the townships, and the voting commenced.

After the marking had proceeded for some time, on motion an additional corps of secretaries were appointed to conduct the marking of the townships in order to facilitate business.

Mr. C. B. Strain called the attention of the Chairman to the fact that candidates and persons, not members of the Convention, were crowding round the Secretaries, and moved that the tables be cleared.

The Chairman requested all persons so offending to move back, stating that unless the request was complied with he would be compelled to call them out by name. This request created considerable confusion and disorder, which was finally quieted and the marking proceeded.

A RESOLUTION AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.

Mr. Keenan offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Convention be authorized to appoint the usual County Committee of Correspondence, of which he shall be Chairman.

Joseph R. Hunter, one of the Vice Presidents in the chair, put the question, and decided the resolution adopted.

A scene of general confusion here ensued.

Mr. Moore held that the resolution was out of order at this time.

Mr. Keenan held that it was in order and was only passed to facilitate business.

Mr. Strain said that by a resolution previously adopted it was decided to refer all resolutions to a committee, and he moved that the whole matter be laid on the table.

The Chairman ruled that there was nothing before the Convention as he had decided that the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Moore appealed from the decision of the Chair.

A vote being taken, the appeal was apparently sustained but was not so decided by the Chair, and the motion was allowed to rest for a time.

Mr. Moore asked permission to make an explanation. He said that during the temporary absence of the Chairman of the Convention, Mr. Keenan had offered the resolution for the purpose of smuggling it through the Convention. That notwithstanding the fact that the resolution had not been put to a vote or heard by the Convention, the gentleman officiating as Chairman had decided that it was adopted. He had appealed from that decision, which appeal was sustained by a very decided vote, yet the Chair had not so declared. He desired to say that this Convention would protest against such action, or against that resolution standing as a part of the action of this Convention.

Another scene of "confusion worse confounded" here ensued, and cries of "he is out of order," "go on with the marking," "go on Mr. Moore," &c., were heard from all parts of the house.

After considerable trouble the Chairman succeeded in restoring partial order when the marking was proceeded with.

A LIBERAL COLLECTION.

Mr. Keenan stated the Janitor had considerable trouble cleaning the room after Democratic Conventions, and at the last two Conventions he had been overlooked. He would therefore suggest that a Committee be appointed to pass around and raise a collection. A Committee was appointed and started round, whereupon several delegates had business outside and others were in search of "change for a quarter." The sum total contributed was $5.90. (Not chargable to the Asa Packer fund.)

The first ballot having been completed, the result was announced by the Chairman as follows:

THAT RESOLUTION AGAIN.

A delegate offered the resolution previously offered by Mr. Keenan, when Mr. Hunter again put the resolution to the Convention and attempted to force it through, which caused another scene of confusion.

Mr. Coyle objected to the proceeding, and held that Mr. Hunter had no right to act as Chairman.

Mr. Moore desired to state that he had no personal feeling in the matter, but he must object to forcing the entire control of the Democratic party of this county upon Mr. Hopkins.

At this point Mr. Hopkins resigned the chair to Mr. Large, and Mr. Moore proceeded, stating that he had no objection to Mr. Large, who he knew to be an honest man.

Mr. Drexler mounted upon a chair and demanded that Mr. Hopkins retain the chair.

Mr. Large called him to order, stating that he would put him out if he did not keep order.

So great was the confusion at this point that it was impossible to hear who was talking or what was being said.

After some time, Mr. Moore was permitted to proceed, comparative order having been restored.

A motion was then made to adopt the resolution making Mr. Hopkins Chairman of the County Executive Committee.

Another scene of confussion ensued.

Mr. Linn attempted to address the Convention on the resolution, when the cries of "you are not a delegate" "put him down" &c.

Mr. Sawyer then moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

The question recured on the resolution which was adopted.

Mr. Hopkins thanked the Convention for the additional honor conferred upon him, after which the balloting proceeded.

Mr. Charles Strain moved that the candidate having the highest number of votes for Commissioner be declared the nominee.

Mr. McIlwain moved as an amendment that the Convention go into another ballot for Commissioner.

The amendment was adopted.

On motion it was resolved to take the vote viva voce.

THE SECOND BALLOT.

The Chairman announced the result of the second ballot as follows:

Irwin	55	*McGee	69

On motion the nomination was made unanimous.

The Chairman then announced the ticket nominated:

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Joseph Hunter, Chairman of the Committee on resolutions submitted the following report;

Resolved, That our State nomination, Hon. Asa Packer and C. L. Pershing deserve and will receive the united and earnest support of the Democratic party of this county in the coming contest.

Resolved, That we ratify and indorse the platform of principles adopted by the late Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg.

Resolved, That a condition of affairs in this county, so alarming as to call forth the late presentment of the Grand Jury, demonstrates the necessity of a change by the action of the people—all the more because of the decision by our Judges that such complaints of the Grand Jury cannot be considered by the courts.

Resolved, That we are opposed to all oppressive sumptuary laws, and to all proscription and intolerant legislation, believing that the interests of morality and religion can only be injured by draging them into the arena of partizan conflicts.

Resolved, That we confidentially recommend the ticket this day nominated, as entitled to the support of all true friends of the public interest in this county.

The report was received and the resolutions were adopted.

On motion adjourned.

The successful candidates are marked with an asterick.

Mr. Geo. Moore

Called on us yesterday, he and his wife having just returned from a visit to the Old World. They left Glasgow on the 31st of July on board the steamship Gambria, and made a very narrow escape from shipwreck. For three days and nights they were surrounded by dense fog, and finally struck on a rock off New Foundland. For three hours their situation was one of imminent peril. The boats were prepared, portions of the cargo were thrown over and the passengers united in prayer. At last, as Mr. Moore says, by a special interposition of Providence, the fog lifted just as the tide was raising and the vessel was able to go off upon her proper course, the same day that the ill-fated Germania struck and went to pieces. Mr. Moore says that all the passengers unite in the belief that the officers and crew did their whole duty and everything else that was in their power to avert the catastrophe, which they so narrowly escaped.

Further Particulars.

Winnie Orenel on Monday afternoon threatened to throw a bottle of "stuff" on Margaret Krane. She was promptly arrested on a warrant from Alderman Humbert, at Margaret's instance, and the evil design thus thwarted. At the hearing before the Alderman she was further compelled to give bonds to keep the peace toward her neighbor. Incensed at being thus checked up, she appeared at Alderman Strain's office yesterday and complained that Margaret had struck her twice in the face with her fist. An officer with a warrant repaired to the residence of Mrs. Krane, No. 17 Point street, to arrest her but found the house vacated this time, the lady having retired but a few minutes before his arrival. She will, in all probability, have an opportunity of explain matters to-day.

Unpleasantness.

Samuel Stevenson and Benjamin Hogan are employed in a rolling mill in the Tenth ward. Yesterday they had a little unpleasantness, which resulted in two informations before Alderman Taylor, one for surety of the peace and the other for assault and battery, Hogan in both cases appearing as defendant. According to Stevenson's statements, Hogan struck him in a pugilistic way, and followed it up with an ominous threat that he would deprive him of his brains by knocking them out. The Alderman issued a warrant for Mr. Hogan's arrest, when the circumstances will be investigated.

RIOT AND BLOODSHED.

Picnic at Iron City Park—Disgraceful Row—Boy Shot by a Policeman—Attempt to Lynch the Officer by Roughs and Drunken Men.

Iron City Park, in the Fifteenth ward, was, yesterday, made the scene of a disgraceful row, and an attempt to lynch a police officer. It appears that a charitable association connected with St. Patricks church, held a picnic, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the relief of the widows and orphans of the congregation. During the forepart of the day the affair passed off pleasently, but towards evening the bad whiskey, beer and other decoctions, a large quantity of which had been disposed of by the crowd assembled, began to have telling effect on a number of them and it soon became evident that the affair would end in a fight. A young man named Carroll, having a heavy load of "benzine" aboard, amused himself by striking a young man whose name we could not ascertain, on the head with a "billy," knocking him down and seriously injuring him. The police, several of whom were present at the request of the managers of the pic nic to preserve order, were called upon to arrest Carroll. He was pointed out to officer Moore, who arrested him and attempted to take him from the grounds, whereupon a large number of roughs made an attack upon the officer to rescue the prisoner. Officers Puruker, Newbert and three others came to the assistance of officer Moore, when the riot became general, the entire crowd of citizens being arrayed against the officers. The crowd pressed upon the officers and were forcing them back with stones and clubs, when officer Puruker in order to intimidate the drunken ruffians, drew his revolver and fired. The shot took effect in the leg of David McCarthy, a boy about twelve years of age, who resides with his uncle at the corner of Penn and Twenty-first street, Twelfth ward. The shot had the effect of checking the attack upon the officer for a few minutes, and officer Moore was enabled to get his prisoner out of the Park.

As soon as the result of the shot was ascertained, the excited crowd made an attack upon the officer, and would have killed him had not some of the more orderly persons attending the pic nic interfered in his behalf. He was taken in charge by two citizens, who in order to get him out of danger started to conduct him to the lockup. The crowd followed and threatened to lynch him, and several times on the way to the lockup he was struck with stones, bricks and other missiles thrown by some of the leaders of the gang of ruffians who were following. At Seventeenth, on Penn, an attempt was made to take the officer from those who had him in charge and lynch him, but, through the determined efforts of the few officers who accompanied him, the attempt was foiled. A similar attempt was made on Smithfield street, but was foiled by the timely appearance of the Chief of Police and a squad of men, who succeeded in arresting John Brown, Peter Dolin, John McCaffrey and Richard Dilling, who appeared to be the ring leaders of the mob.

The uncle of the boy, David O'Connor, will probably make information against the officer for felonious assault and battery. He came to the Mayor's office for that purpose last evening, but the Mayor not being present, he did not wait.

The ball took effect in the fleshy part of the boy's thigh, and although painful, is not considered dangerous.

As the matter will probably go into Court, we reserve comment for the present, but would suggest that some means be adopted for closing Iron City Park, as it appears impossible to hold a picnic or other gathering there without a riot.

A Good Shot.

A shooting affray occurred yesterday on Fifth avenue, formerly Pennsylvania avenue, near Pride street, between Elisha Hague, son of Robert Hague, Chief of Police, and Charles A. Good, the orator whose thrilling eloquence was heard in Turner Hall during the days of the Mutual Protectionists, "of whom he was which." It appears the party got into a dispute about a dog, not one of the unfortunate canines who had been treated to a dose of "strychnine," but a living black and tan. The dispute terminated in a fight and Good, it is alleged, made an attack upon young Hague with brick bats and paving stones, whereupon the latter drew a pistol and fired at Good, striking him in the knee. Hague at once repaired to the office of Alderman Humbert and delivered himself up, and entered bail in the sum of a thousand dollars for a hearing.

Figured Granedines.—Bates & Bell offer Silk Granedines for 50c, worth 75c. All Granedines proportionably cheap.

Pretty Women.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish, and single out pretty faces for companions.

This can all be changed by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth and a Refined sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing, powerful, and natural.

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckeled or rustic Compiexion who will invest 75 cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Katharion. MWFF.

Chapped Hands, face and all roughness of the skin, certainly cured by using the Juniper Tar Soap, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It surpasses all other remedies as it will prevent roughness of the skin if used during cold weather. It is easily applied, avoiding all the trouble of the greasy compounds now in use. It can be used by ladies with the most tender skin, without irritation or pain, making it soft and clear. Sold by the druggists generally. wT

Special Reduction.—Bates & Bell offer Shetland Shawls, a fresh stock, 25 per cent under regular prices.

Bates & Bell are selling Japanese Silks, Summer Silks, Thin Dress Goods and Shawls, at very low prices to close the stock.

Truth in a Nut Shell.

It is a very hard matter to decide from the many conflicting statements that from time to time appear in the daily papers regarding the number of Sewing Machines sold in this community. Some enterprising agents assert that they sell double the number sold by their rivals, while others make more modest assertions. In order to help our readers arrive at the truth, as the popularity of a machine is the best evidence of its superiority, we would state, as all business men know, that each agent is compelled by law to make a return under oath of his yearly gross sales. From the first day of April, 1868, to the 31st day of March, 1869, as we learn from official sources, these returns were made as follows:

Weed Sewing Machine, 112 Grant St.,	$38,926 07
Singer " " Sixth and Penn Sts,	35,500 00
Howe " " 4 Sixth st reet	25,000 00
Grover & Baker, Fifth avenue	24 600 00
Empire & Wilcox & Gibbs, 49 Sixth st,	18 600 00
American Buttonhole Company	No return

MORE TRUTH IN A NUTSHELL.

The above figures, so far as they go, are correct, but are intended to mislead and deceive a good many persons who may eventually buy Sewing Machines. As the author of the foregoing paragraph truthfully asserts, "the popularity of a machine is the best evidence of its superiority," and we can affirm that so popular has the WHEELER & WILSON machine become, and so well established as a household necessity, that we have not deemed it necessary to do any advertising for the past ten months, and are only prompted to do so now, to prevent misrepresentation. To show the estimation that the public have of the "Wheeler & Wilson," we correct the above statement so as to include the sales of this justly popular machine from the Pittsburgh office within the same time:

Wheeler & Wilson, (140 Wood St.)	$150,900
Weed	39,000
Singer	35 500
Howe	25,000
Grover & Baker	25,400
Empire and Wilcox & Gibbs	18 600
American Buttonhole	No return

This proves that we not only sell "double the number" of machines sold by "any of our rivals," but also that our sales exceed the combined sales of all of them over seventeen thousand ($17,000) dollars. Therefore if popularity is the true test, the Wheeler & Wilson is the superior machine. Considering that we are pretty well known among sewing machine houses, we cannot understand how our neighbors overlooked us when compiling their report. It must certainly have been an oversight, for if intentional, we should imagine they did not want the few who buy their particular machine to know that there was a better one in the market.

We would invite parties desirous of buying machines to call at our elegant salesroom, 140 Wood street, and examine the Wheeler & Wilson Machine before purchasing elsewhere.
